Gen. Ridgway Warns Biggest Communist Blow Still To Come

Manufacturers To Reprice Many Goods

Washington (AP) — In a far-reaching order which officials said would bring many price rollbacks for consumers, the government last night directed 75,000 manufacturers to reprice a vast range of products.

Price Director Michael DiSalle acknowledged there would be some price increases too, although he said the "net" effect would be a reduction in the general level of manufacturers' prices.

Estimating that the 75,000 manufacturers do about $70,000,000,000 of business yearly, he called the new regulation a major step toward restoring "equitable industrial prices." It covers products ranging from refrigerators and television sets to breakfast cereals and soup mixes.

DiSalle told a news conference the regulation will:

One—Roll back the prices of companies which "unjustifiably" raised their prices and profit margins after the outbreak of the Korean war; and

Two—Provide relief to manufacturers who were caught by the general freeze January 26 with ceiling prices in many cases below actual production costs.

"This regulation, we felt, was urgently needed," DiSalle said. "Many companies increased their prices beyond the point at which increased labor and material costs could justify. These prices should and will be rolled back."

The new regulation replaces the general price freeze under which the manufacturers have been operating. Generally speaking, it is designed to base prices on pre-Korean war figures, plus increases since that time in factory wages and materials costs.

In another action yesterday the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) extended for another 30 days—until May 30— the time for 276,000 retail stores to file pricing charts with OPS and put new margin-type ceiling prices into effect.

This marks the second extension. The original order issued February 27 set March 29 at the deadline for putting new prices into effect at retail. Last month the OPS gave the retailers until April 30 to file pricing charts and begin using new prices. Now they have until May 30.

The new manufacturers' pricing order provides that no individual company may increase prices above present ceilings without first notifying OPS 15 days in advance that it intends to do so. DiSalle said requests for increases will be reviewed closely.

Manufacturers getting relief under the regulation, DiSalle said, will be those who "held back on price increases" last December while cooperating with the government's voluntary price stabilization program. Reductions in manufacturer's prices, DiSalle said, eventually will be reflected in prices to consumers. Manufacturers have until May 28 to compute their new ceilings. Then it would take more time for lower-priced goods to reach shelves of retail stores.

Buying Spree Ended But New Threat Noted

Washington (AP) — The big consumer buying spree of early 1951 halted in March, the Commerce department reported yesterday.

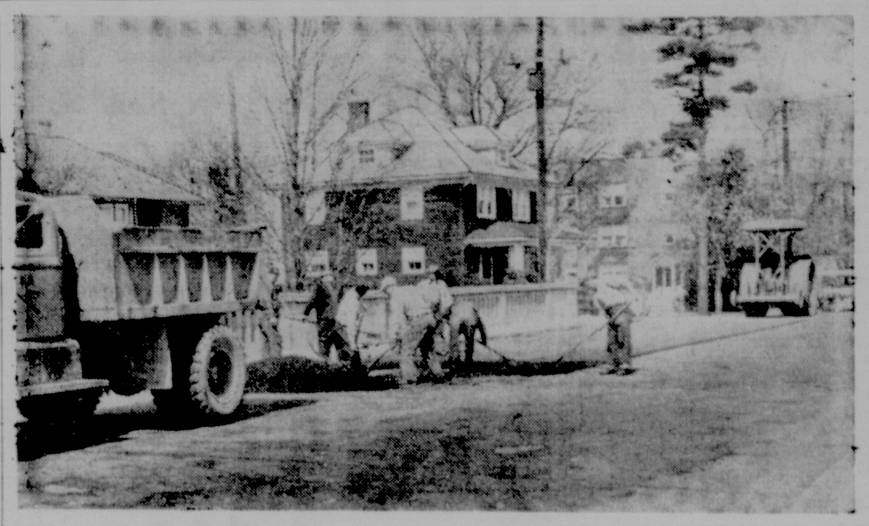

But the department warned that this "moderation of the inflationary movement" was offset by a rising threat of inflation from another quarter—business firms' plans to invest record sums in new plant and equipment this year.

The threat of a business spending spree was pictured by the agency as making further government controls or other counter-inflationary action necessary, although some makers of autos and other consumer goods are now cutting output and laying off workers.

U. S. Capitol May Be Blown To Bits--McMahon; Top Brass Favored Use Of Chinese--Whitney

Washington, (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn) declared yesterday that the U. S. Capitol may be "blown to smithereens next week" by atomic bombs if this country follows the wrong policy in Asia.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee, spoke up for the administration's policy of limiting the Korean war if possible and against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals for broader action against the Chinese Communists.

This new defense of President Truman's policies came after announcement was made that the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, and the foreign policy issues it raised, will begin May 3, a week from Thursday.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services committee said he prefers to have MacArthur testify at a closed session. But he added that there will be a public hearing "if the general expresses a desire" for one.

Senate leaders of both parties urged public hearings "as far as possible."

One of the great questions to be explored is what to do about the Chinese Nationalist troops now on the island of Formosa.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett said yesterday that 400 to 500 more men may be assigned to the U. S. military mission to Formosa. They would be in addition to the 48 officers and 68 men whose departure was announced last week.

Lovett told a news conference the purpose of the mission is to train, equip and advise the Chinese Nationalist forces, estimated by MacArthur to number 600,000.

Reporters asked if the Nationalists might get equipment and training for an invasion of the Chinese mainland. Lovett wouldn't comment on this or any other questions involving the Truman-MacArthur controversy.

New York, (AP)—An aide said yesterday Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to throw Chinese Nationalists into battle was shared by top Army, Navy and Air commanders in Korea.

The spokesman said Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Far Eastern commander, went directly to the Pentagon with such a proposal—apparently soon after he got his first look at the situation in Korea.

"As far as I know, there has been no shift in the opinion of any military leader on the scene," added Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, personal adviser to MacArthur.

"There has not been the slightest deviation from the viewpoint General MacArthur expressed."

MacArthur was dismissed by President Truman for his differing views on American foreign policy in the Far East—including his belief that Chinese troops on Formosa should be sent into battle.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East, including Ridgway, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, and Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy of the Navy, also favored the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops against Chinese Reds on the mainland.

In Washington, presidential press secretary Joseph Short declined comment on Whitney's statements. There was no immediate reaction from the Pentagon, either.

Whitney said Ridgway analyzed the situation after he first went to Korea and then "sent a very strong message to the Pentagon through General MacArthur advocating use of those troops to strengthen our military operations."

MacArthur estimates about 600,000 Nationalist troops are available on Formosa.

Major Dikes Hold Back Flood Crest

By The Associated Press

The crest of the surging Mississippi hit Iowa river cities yesterday, but all major dikes held and the danger of extensive new damage eased in that area.

The only dike break reported was at Spring Lake, Ill. An old levee crumbled, flooding 3,000 acres of government - owned recreation land below Savanna.

However, the worst of the flood won't reach threatened downstream Illinois, Iowa and Missouri cities until later in the week.

Meanwhile, a serious timber fire raged in parched Oregon and a dozen small fires broke out in the dry Pacific northwest. The entire Pacific northwest, dried by nearly a month of drought, has become a fire hazard.

The Mississippi flood already has made 7,400 persons homeless in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. The Red Cross estimated another 24,000 persons are threatened with evacuation.

The most critical spot, Sabula, an Iowa community of 800 persons, apparently was winning the battle of the Mississippi. Sixty per cent of the town is below the level of the river—being held back by two mile-long levees to the north and south.

A snowstorm swept Wyoming, dumping five inches of snow at Lander and three inches at Casper.

Wallgren Says He Will Resign

Washington, (AP) — Chairman Mon Wallgren of the Federal Power commission said yesterday he will resign "sometime this summer."

Asked whether he is going to throw his hat into the political ring in Washington State, Wallgren said he is "not sure the people want me."

He added that there is a race for governor and one for senator coming up in that state, and said "I might go out and look the situation over."

Wallgren is a former governor of Washington.

Attlee Replaces Labor Bolters

London (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee's party chiefs struck a bargain with leftwing bolters yesterday in a bid to keep the Labor government in power a while longer.

At the same time, Attlee hastily plugged the gaps in his Cabinet left by the resignations of Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan and Board of Trade President Harold Wilson, who objected to a $4,172,000,000 arms budget that nibbled away same state welfare benefits.

As an example, No. 6 eastbound passenger train, the Phoebe Snow, now leaves here at 4:35 p. m. The new summer timetable will show the train leaving at 3:35 p. m., EST, but actually it will be 4:35 p. m. DST.

The Martz Coach Co. will run on daylight saving time affective Sunday.

The Greyhound Lines will be issuing a "revised schedule" which will be effective Sunday, April 29.

O'Dwyer Is Criticized

New York, (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) suggests that William O'Dwyer "search his conscience as to whether he thinks he is doing his country a service" by continuing as ambassador to Mexico.

The chairman of the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating committee said however, he couldn't predict whether O'Dwyer would remain in the "critical post of ambassador to an important neighboring country."

Reviewing the committee's findings in New York hearings, the Senator wrote in the Saturday Evening Post of what he termed the former mayor's "truculent defense of his political and official conduct."

"To me," he said, "the position of Mr. O'Dwyer was particularly lamentable — a melancholy essay on political morality. It was not inspiring to see this man, who, at the moment he was testifying, occupied the honored position of United States ambassador to Mexico, seek to defend his own conduct by repeatedly shifting responsibilities to other officials."

However, the senator added, "I shall not prejudice" any possible perjury action against O'Dwyer or other witnesses heard in New York "by prejudging the various issues."

In Mexico City, O'Dwyer indicated he had read Kefauver's remarks concerning him but asserted: "I don't intend to say anything."

97 Die When Fire Flashes Through Train

Yokohama, Wednesday (AP)—Fire caused by a dangling live wire roared through a crowded interurban train yesterday, killing 97 persons, including three American soldiers.

The Army reduced the toll of known American dead after it had been announced earlier that seven Americans had perished.

The Army said its investigation failed to show that four other foreigners who died were U. S. soldiers.

Fifty-nine other persons were injured, some seriously. Names of the soldiers were withheld temporarily.

A Japanese railway official said a dangling power line touched the trolley of the electric train as it pulled into a station here.

Flames flashed through the old wooden coach. The electrically-operated doors would not work. The windows were small ones, so designed in wartime to save on glass. Only the smallest person could squeeze through.

As the flames roared, passengers screamed in terror.

It was more than an hour after firemen checked the flames before anyone could get into the smouldering ruins. Then they removed 97 charred bodies. Forty of the victims were women and eight were children.

Tatsuo Shiraki, chief of the Tokyo Railway bureau, said wire repairmen had been at work at the station. They had put up red warning flags. Earlier trains had passed the point safely.

There were five coaches on the death train. There was no special half-coach for occupation personnel such as there are on larger trains.

The line runs from north of Tokyo to the southern outskirts of Yokohama.

Senate Votes New Life For Crime Probe

Washington (AP) — The Senate's crime investigation goes on at least until next September 1 and perhaps longer but with a new chairman, Senator O'Conor (D-Md).

And Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tie-ups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late yesterday in a compromise promoted by the Senate Democratic Policy committee. It was swiftly approved by the Senate itself, without objection.

The Republican members of the special investigating group, Senators Wiley (Wis) and Tobey (NH) had wanted an extension to next January 15, with $150,000 in new money to work with.

They settled, however, for four more months after the presently scheduled terminal date of April 30, plus a chance to keep the operation going under the management of the regular Commerce committee of the Senate. Nobody said whether there will be any more televised hearings such as climaxed the Kefauver group's work last month.

The resolution also provides the crime committee with another $100,000 of expense money. It already has had $265,000.

Rita's Attorney Hints Of Divorce

New York (AP)—A lawyer yesterday provided the first official inkling that the storybook romance of the Prince and the Princess—Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth—is headed for a non-fairy-tale crack-up.

The glamorous actress' attorney, Barley Crum, was asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from the Moslem prince. Said he: "No decision has been reached yet."

The significance of this statement was in the fact that it was the first time anyone able to speak for the actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

When Rita returned here from Europe on April 2, she was asked about the divorce reports and replied:

"There is no truth in that."

Later she notified her Hollywood studio she was available for movie roles. This put off new talk of a rift.

U. S. Eighth Army Braces After Red Breakthrough

Tokyo, Wednesday (AP) — Reinforced Allied troops today dug in and slowed the big Chinese Red breakthrough force in central Korea.

The Allied supreme commander warned, however, that the biggest Communist blow was still to come.

Fresh United Nations infantrymen helped hold a new line four miles north of the lateral Chunchon-Seoul road, the U.S. Eighth Army reported.

The first objective of the four-day old Red counter-offensive by upwards of half a million men apparently was to cut that road in central Korea and then swing in behind Allied forces to the west.

Three Chinese Army corps—165,000 at full strength—had punched a big hole in the mountainous middle of Korea, then plunged south across the 38th parallel as much as 10 miles.

Allied defenders of the Chunchon-Seoul highway attempted a stand before the breakthrough force at a point seven miles south of 38.

The Allied top commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, took a look on a flying visit to the front and then said the Red drive had not "attained its maximum strength."

The general said the outcome "may well prove decisive" but he expressed confidence the hard-pressed Eighth Army would meet the test.

In central Korea, Allied forces gave up Hwachon reservoir.

A dispatch from Eighth Army field headquarters said Allied withdrawals east and west of the reservoir left defenders there in a dangerously exposed salient.

Withdrawing troops also yielded Hwachon town near the west end of the reservoir.

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U. N. line.

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the Red offensive opened the Communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

Regardless of the cost, the Reds breached the Imjin river defense line 30 miles northwest of Seoul.

They swarmed through a hole left by faltering South Korean troops south of Kumhwa on the central front and menaced the Allied base at Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of central Korea in a flanking movement.

Allied censors in the field deleted all references to distances in the Reds' third invasion of South Korea.

However there was some cautious optimism. One heavily-censored dispatch from the western front said United Nations troops who were hit by a terrific opening punch now were "standing firm against slightly lessened Chinese pressure."

On the blazing central front correspondent Jim Becker reported the Reds were entrenching on ridge positions south of the 38th parallel and northwest of Chunchon, seven miles below the old political boundary.

However, Becker was able to report that swift riding Chinese cavalrymen and plodding Red infantry who ripped a sagging hole in the central front line south of Kumhwa were threatening Allied forces.

Western Front, Korea, Wednesday (AP)—The Chinese Communist Army in the west renewed its offensive against the United Nations forces last night and broke through Allied lines south of Choksong.

Many Residents Of Seoul Abandoning City For Third Time In Less Than Year

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, (AP)—Many residents of Seoul today were abandoning the old Korean capital for the third time in less than a year.

Civilians began the trek south as Chinese and North Korean Reds crossed the 38th parallel in a four-day-old counter-offensive. Latest reports, however, still put the nearest enemy forces more than 20 miles from Seoul.

When Allied forces re-entered Seoul last Feb. 10, United Nations officers warned residents not to return but many ignored the warning and went back to rubbled homes.

The residents fled for the first time in late June, 1950, at the outset of the war as North Koreans invaded South Korea. The second time was at the close of 1950 just ahead of the Chinese New Year's eve drive.

U. N. Assembly Called Upon To Make Major Military Decisions In Korean War

United Nations, N. Y., (AP)—The American Association for the United Nations proposed yesterday that the United Nations Assembly take over responsibility for major military decisions in the Korean war. This would mean Washington would be relieved as U. N. agent directing the unified command.

The 60-nation assembly, which includes Russia and the Communist Soviet bloc, would be called upon for major decisions in the battle against Communist aggression.

The association is a non-profit organization with 75 chapters in the United States. It is not connected with the United Nations but it seeks to promote understanding of the aims of the U. N.

In a letter to American Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin, the associations executive committee said General MacArthur in his speech to Congress lost sight of the necessity that any decision involving extension of the war beyond Korea must be taken under the responsibility and by the joint judgment of the United Nations. It said Americans must recognize that military strategy in Korea is not solely an American strategy.

The committee making this finding is headed by William Emerson of Boston and includes Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state.

The association called on the U. N. to make a vigorous, immediate and imaginative effort to secure a cease-fire and conferences to restore peace. If this appeal failed, it said the U. N. should go ahead with measures to attain its objectives in Korea. These objectives are a unified, independent Korea.

1,500 Pupils Fail To See Rovinsky

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—More than 1,500 curious school students crowded the Lehigh Valley railroad station yesterday to catch a glimpse of Charles E. Rovinsky being returned from California to face charges of killing his wife, father-in-law and brother-in-law.

The school children failed to see Rovinsky. Three authorities bringing him back took him from the train nine miles north of here, at Pittston.

FSA Suggests Formation Of Health Units

Washington, (AP) — The Federal Security agency suggested yesterday the formation of 47 local public health units in Pennsylvania to cover the State's 67 counties.

To staff these units, the agency recommended a minimum of 327 physicians and 1,996 nurses.

The pattern was suggested in a publication the FSA said is designed to show how regional planning would enable general hospitals and local health departments to work together for better health in every community.

Announcing the publication, Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing said it is intended as a guide rather than a blueprint.

However, he said, the study can "enable health officers, hospital planners, and state and local administrators to visualize how a coordinated pattern of hospitals and health departments could fit their own needs and make possible a superior type of health protection for citizens of their communities."

In mapping out health unit areas, the agency said they are each designed to serve a population of no less than 35,000 and are drawn to fit the pattern of existing or proposed hospitals and health centers.

Ewing has suggested a pattern of units for all counties of the State. The suggested unit for Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties is:

One physician and thirteen nurses.

Brehm Denies Charge

Washington (AP) — Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) swore yesterday he never received any money from Mrs. Clara Soliday, a former employe. Brehm conceded, however, that Mrs. Soliday, without his knowledge, contributed a total of $600 toward his campaign funds.

PSES Reports Serious Shortage Of Clerical Workers Here

Pinch Noted By Industry, Businesses

A serious shortage of all types of clerical workers in local industry and business operations was announced yesterday by officials of local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office.

Recruitment of all types of skilled and unskilled hotel workers to meet the ever-increasing requests for that type of labor in the Pocono Mountains resort region was also reported by agency officials.

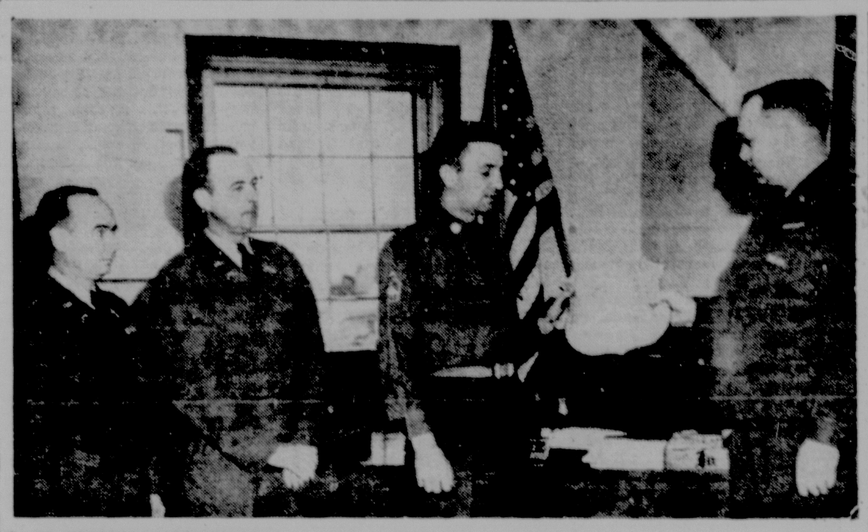

Many of the clerical job openings are attractive both from the standpoint of working conditions and remuneration, officials said.

PSES authorities noted that for the past several years persons trained for clerical positions have accepted positions on the assembly line, leaving an acute shortage in the clerical labor market.

As a result, clerical help have come into their own in recent months. Time and one-half time for overtime, excellent working conditions and minimum rates of $30 a week with advancement incentives are now the basic pattern, PSES officials said. Experienced stenographers and secretaries range from $35 to $50 a week. Several openings in local offices are above the $50 figure with attractive vacation and sick leave offers, PSES officials disclosed.

A deluge of requests has already been recorded for hotel and restaurant workers in this region. Last year over 5,000 were placed and even more are expected to be sought this year.

Major requests are for waitresses, waiters, kitchen help, chambermaids, bell boys. Applicants for these posts or clerical workers are asked to apply at East Stroudsburg PSES office.

Gordon Pollock, 1st Bn. CO. Award is made for best mess hall in the regiment.

Captain Edinger's Company Wins Award At Breckinridge

Capt. Frank A. Edinger, son of Mrs. Freda Edinger, of Delaware Water Gap, commanding officer of Company A, 53rd Regiment, 101st Airborne Infantry, Camp Breckinridge, Ky., was honored recently when his company received the "best mess" award for the regiment. This award is presented monthly to the company having the best-run mess, best food, least deficiencies and in general the highest standards of efficiency.

Col. Elbert T. Mackey, regimental commander who made the presentation to Captain Edinger and his mess steward, said, "It is an essential part of the Army training program that the personnel of this unit be given the proper food. Only by constant supervision, as shown by Captain Edinger, can this food be prepared in a nutritious and attractive manner. I wish to congratulate you Captain for your excellent mess and the high state of morale of the troops under you, which is due in a large part to the excellent mess you have provided."

During World War Two, Captain Edinger served with the 34th Division in Italy and also served in the Pacific theater. During his 10 years of service he has served overseas for 26 months.

Included in his awards and decorations are the Presidential Unit Citation, Purple Heart, Combat Infantry badge, European, Pacific and American Theater ribbons Victory ribbon, and the Philippine Liberation ribbon. He has a total of four battle stars for campaigns in the European and Pacific theaters.

Court Receives Petition In Wink Appeal

A petition for a supersedeas in the case of Robert W. Wink, Weissport, Pa., seeking his release from Eastern penitentiary on bail pending disposition of an appeal in his case to Superior court, was presented to Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president of Superior Court here yesterday afternoon.

Wink was convicted and sentenced in Carbon county on charges of statutory rape and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Judge Rhodes yesterday received the petition and heard brief arguments in the supersedeas action. Briefs were filed, together with records of the case, for later disposition on the petition.

Attorney Michael Von Moschzisker, Philadelphia, whose father once was chief justice of Pennsylvania's Supreme court, represented Wink.

1949 Burglary Count Pressed

Five men, one of them from Stroudsburg, were brought here from Northampton county prison yesterday for arraignment on a charge of burglarizing the Max Blum junk yard on Route 209, Stroud township, on Sept. 14, 1949.

The group included Richard S. Capone, 23, of 80 Second St.; Robert (Bill) Allen, 23, of Phillipsburg, N. J.; Michael Lucykanich, 30, Bethlehem RD; George Calvin Shotwell, 30, and Harold Joseph Hildebrand, 24, both of Belvidere, N. J., RD.

All five waived hearing on the junk yard burglary charge before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, and were returned under guard to Northampton prison at Easton where they are presently serving varied terms on Northampton county larceny and burglary convictions.

Prior to their arrests on charges preferred by Northampton county authorities, the five-member gang was implicated in a series of service station and roadstand robberies which extended chainlike from Pike county into Monroe and Northampton and then into New Jersey.

District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen said that Allen's approaching eligibility for parole from a one to two-year sentence in Northampton county prompted yesterday's action here.

He explained that now that the five have been arraigned here for the junk yard burglary, they will be committed to jail here upon their release from confinement at Easton.

Total of 19 storage batteries, an auto radio and an auto heater were taken from the junk yard and later resold to another dealer in Phillipsburg, N. J. The goods were valued at $150.

The gang escaped capture until two of them were involved in an auto accident with Shotwell's car in Easton on Jan. 27, 1950. At that time police examining the car found a revolver which had been stolen from a burglarized diner on Alternate Route 22, Northampton county.

Under questioning prior to their convictions in Northampton county, the gang also admitted burglarizing two roadstands at Delaware Water Gap on Nov. 9, 1949. Investigation of these offenses was made by Chief Fred Decker, of Delaware Water Gap.

Shotwell and Hildebrand were committed to Monroe county jail here in the fall of 1949 on charges of shooting deer out of season with an automatic rifle. They paid heavy fines at that time.

The five were moved here yesterday under a guard which included Warden Erwin C. Gackenbuch and Guard Russell Kickline, of Northampton county prison, and Pfcs. Alex G. Kearn and James R. Reilly, of Stroudsburg State police.

Dr. J. L. Rumsey will be out of town from April 24-28 inclusive.—Adv.

Harry Porter Arraigned On Theft Charge

Harry Porter, 22, of 60 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, was formally charged with burglarizing the Gulf service station at S. Courtland and Washington Sts. in East Stroudsburg, late yesterday before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser.

Porter, apprehended last Saturday in Rockville, Md., was returned to Monroe county late Monday night by Officer Edward M. Harloe, of East Stroudsburg police, and Pfc. Alex G. Kearn, of Stroudsburg State police.

When arraigned yesterday before Justice Bonser, Porter was committeed to Monroe county jail for an appearance in county court during the May term.

The prisoner waived extradition to Pennsylvania when taken before Justice of the Peace, J. Kelly Magee, of Rockville, by Montgomery county, Md., Detective Cpl. Charles Pearson on Monday.

The Maryland justice then released him into custody of Harloe and Kearn for return to Pennsylvania.

Porter, Charles Sansenbach, who was apprehended by East Stroudsburg police on April 15 after a car theft incident, and a juvenile are all implicated in the east borough service station burglarly, according to the office of District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen.

The theft occurred late at night on March 31 when one of the three allegedly broke a window and reached into a washroom towel container where $118.29 in night business proceeds had been secreted.

The three are alleged to have then driven to Stroudsburg and north on Route 611 where the money was divided before they returned to the boroughs to eat at a diner.

Sansenbach and the juvenile were speedily apprehended after the auto larceny, but Porter, meantime, had left for Washington D. C., necessitating cooperation of Washington and Maryland police in his arrest at Rockville.

The National Geographic Society says it is estimated three to four million persons have been killed by earthquakes since 600 A. D.

Driver Held In Hit-Run Crash Here

Driver of a New Jersey hit-run car which damaged a parked machine owned by Jesse L. Albert, of Delaware Water Gap, late Saturday night on Lower Main St., has been apprehended.

Officer Jack Tretheway, investigating for Stroudsburg borough police, disclosed that Ervin V. Litz, 29, of Hainesburg RD 1, was brought here last night to make restitution for damages through cooperation of Sgt. Norman J. Nelson and New Jersey State police at the Blairstown substation.

After the appearance here, Litz was released under his own recognizance.

During the past several years, Mr. Hansen has served as solicitor for the borough of Delaware Water Gap, and he was recently reappointed to that office for another four-year term.

Active in the work of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, he is secretary of the board of church trustees, chairman of the finance committee, and is also active in the various church groups.

In addition, he is president of the Lehigh Valley Laymen's association, retiring president of the Stroudsburg Dutch Treat club, a member of Kiwanis and numerous other professional and fraternal organizations throughout the county.

FIREBALL POWERED

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflow Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

Order From Chaos

In an effort to reduce civil defense plans in Pennsylvania to their simplest terms, Executive Director Richard A. Gerstell is developing a model organization blueprint to be recommended to local communities for use in case of attack.

Planning carefully in order to eliminate the chaotic situation in which civil defense has found itself, Gerstell has emphasized again and again that funds set aside for the Pennsylvania Civil Defense Council will not be dissipated in creation of a wasteful bureaucracy.

Sensibly he is cautioning local communities to delay buying air raid warning signal equipment until final federal approval is given a standard type of signal. Otherwise, he says, communities would lose out on the 50 per cent reimbursement for warning devices.

These are the kind of words one would expect to hear from a man who has such a down-to-earth approach to atomic disaster possibilities. He does not approach the problem with the hysterical attitude characteristic of too many involved in civil defense activities.

Gerstell assures that statewide training of key personnel and operation of aircraft observation and warning systems will be the first order of business of the civil defense council. All in all, the manner in which he is going about his work should have a calming effect.

Mall for Shrine

Pennsylvanians, proud of their state's place in American history, are smiling broadly at the increased attention now being accorded Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Demolition of the first of 32 buildings to be razed for a mall at the birthplace of the nation's independence will get under way within 10 days. The work is to be completed within a year.

Management of Independence Hall was taken over by the federal government early this year. Philadelphia did a good job in the care it gave earlier but after all Independence Hall is a national shrine and should be a matter of federal concern. It is no great credit that so many major shrines have fallen into disrepair and in some cases become sites of incompatible commercial enterprises. The care now being given Independence Hall properly should be extended.

Colleges Join Up

Pennsylvania colleges apparently are to have an increasingly important part in the nation's defense programs. Four more of them have been assigned Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps programs.

They are Allegheny in Meadville, Franklin and Marshall in Lancaster, Grove City in Grove City, and St. Joseph's in Philadelphia. They are on a list of 62 institutions just chosen and bring the total for the Air Force program to 187. Several other Pennsylvania colleges and universities were previously selected for ROTC training; others, among them Penn State and Gettysburg, have had such programs for years.

Pennsylvania colleges and universities gave notable service in World War II through their training programs. Thousands of Navy, Army and Air Force men were given important instruction on Keystone State campuses. The achievements were remarkable—and at the same time the government payments helped most of the colleges through trying financial situations, just as they probably will do in the lean days of intensified defense program.

But so far as the nation at large is concerned, the quality of training is the paramount consideration. Pennsylvania colleges may reasonably be expected to measure up as they have done in the past.

You're Telling Me

An Iroquois Indian tribe living in Canada claims it owns a fourth of the state of Vermont. Wonder if Vermonters could get the redskins to settle for just the maple syrup rights?

The Indians managed to get their claim before the Vermont legislature. When it comes to pow-wow they've got know how.

There's a heap smarter than the bewildered braves who swapped Manhattan island for a string of dime store beads and a fifth of you-know-what.

In the old days when Indians figured the paleface had finagled 'em out of their real estate they served eviction notice via the whizzing arrow and the whirling tomahawk.

Their attitude was simply hair-raising. If that term's too technical, consult Daniel Boone.

Those old-time Indians didn't know that the pen is always mightier than the sword. They had never seen either.

To mix a metaphor, the palefaces had the redskins' number, from A to Z (Apache to Zuni). Aside from some reservations, about all the U. S. Indian Braves have now are a couple of ball parks—in Cleveland and Boston.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A Dublin bishop was extolling moral courage to a class of young boys. "Twelve boys shared a dormitory in my youth," he said, "and I was the only one who steadfastly knelt down to say my prayers. Jibes never dissuaded me once. That was moral courage. Can any of my students cite another example?" One jumped up and said, "Yes. Twelve bishops shared a dormitory—and only one jumped into bed without saying his prayers!"

What Henry Mencken would call a typical female motorist came tootling merrily down the wrong side of a crowded thoroughfare and ran smack into Mr. Jordan's brand new convertible. While they were trying to untangle bumpers, the lady driver said grudgingly, "I'm afraid this was largely my fault." "Nonsense," said Mr. Jordan with a gallant bow. "I assure you the blame rests entirely with me. I saw you fully three blocks away and had ample time to dart down a side street."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—An autograph hunter once addressed S. Z. Sakall as "Mr. Greenstreet." Another time, in a store, a stranger gushed about how much she had enjoyed his performances. Sakall asked her, "Vat's my name?" She was stumped. Another shopper standing nearby commented, "He has no name—just a face."

Sakall likes to tell these stories on himself. He thinks they prove his anonymity bespite his 41 Hollywood movies in 11 years. But you know him—the rotund little Hungarian-born actor with the fat jowls, startled look, and eloquent hands. Usually he's the heroine's rich uncle, father, or benefactor in a musical.

"Always the same!" exclaimed Jani (pronounced yohnny and meaning Johnny), as intimates call him. "In Germany I make 106 pictures. Never I play a rich man, never the boss. Always the employee. Is not my part to be a boss—is not in my soul. In my soul is to be a little afraid."

Sakall has an unseen movie partner in his gracious little blonde wife of 31 years. Berzhy (Hungarian equivalent of Bessy) rises with him at 6 a.m. and personally scrambles his three eggs.

Mrs. Sakall memorizes her husband's entire scripts. As they drive to the studio, with Jani at the wheel, she feeds him the other players' lines and he rehearses. Thus, during "Lullaby of Broadway," she was alternately Gene Nelson, Doris Day, Billy DeWolfe and Florence Bates.

In their beautiful, Spanish-type Beverly Hills home, the Sakalls serve wonderful paprika chicken, dumplings, and strawberry shortcake. After brazenly accepting three helpings of each, I should know.

Sakall said he was born in Budapest 61 years ago, the son of a tombstone sculptor. From newspaper reporting he turned to play and movie writing and acting. He still writes—wants to act in his script about a tragi-comic little man who has two families at the same time.

The Sakalls send 20 or more parcels to European friends and strangers weekly. Berzhy handles part of this business, and Jani's fan mail, during her days in his dressing room. She has stayed off his sets ever since, in Germany, a director hollered "Shh!" at a visitor who spoke to her during a take.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Americanisms

I often wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "A Dictionary of Americanisms on Historical Principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not American, then beigel and lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is beigel and lox from City Hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson bridge.

Instead of lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it is actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office!

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "Hell!" and that took me back what seems to me to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act.

Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today; it's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for half a dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world streamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances wtih life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard work, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads:

"In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

It's an old trick.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — During World War II, due to the efficiency of U. S. Navy pilots and submarine crews, Japanese shipping was wiped from the face of the sea. This created a transportation vacuum which the Japanese, under Allied surrender terms, have not been able to fill.

The British will be more than pleased to take over the job full time, however, and since the end of the war Empire bottoms have been doing their best to replace the missing Jap merchant fleet. Of course, most of the trade carried by British ships has been with the Chinese communists. Now, however, the helpful British are ready to go all the way, by supplying the Japanese with enough ships to take care of that nation's needs as well.

The British propose to do this by banning Japanese merchant ships in the peace treaty which they are helping state department aide, John Foster Dulles, write at this time. In other words the British found the Japanese surrender ban on shipping such a good thing that they are now willing to extend the prohibition on into eternity. It's good business—for the British.

One other clever idea British diplomats have concocted, concerning Japan, is to ban textile manufacturing by the Japanese. This little proposal, along with the shipping ban, will be made part of the peace treaty, if the British have their way.

Even by trying hard it is doubtful if Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Socialist comrades could have found any quicker way to break the back of Japan's economy. For generations Japan has survived on textiles and shipping.

Of course, so long as Secretary of State Dean Acheson continues to take orders from No. 10 Downing Street in London, the British have every reason to believe their proposal will be accepted. All we taxpayers have to do is to keep on supporting Japan with large appropriations out of the public treasury, while the British skim off the gravy by handling all the trade.

In Germany recently, the Allied powers raised the ban on German ship building. This was a jarring wrench to British diplomacy, but the socialists managed to keep up their chins long enough to race to Japan and drop the two ideas in the hopper so they could cash in on that nation's economic plight.

Everything coming out of our State Department these days has a British label on it. The drawing room warriors in that racket won't make a move without telling Attlee. Nobody, it seems, ever considers Uncle Sam first, that's grubby business, apparently, and not quite cricket.

Just like Germany, we've had Japan around our neck ever since we licked them. It could go on forever, but shouldn't. In writing the peace treaty, Congress should instruct Dulles and the State Department that the Japanese economy should be restored—and fast. The quicker it's done the less it's going to cost you and me. Japan can't survive without a textile industry and a lot of merchant shipping. The British know this, but when you're greedy a few economic facts are no stumbling block.

We can't get tough with the Chinese because of the British; we can't get Japan back on its feet because of the British; Truman has to fire Gen. Douglas MacArthur because he disturbs the British.

It probably wasn't hard to do, but somebody really sold Acheson on the need to maintain British socialists in a manner they want to become accustomed to. Acheson, of course, while spinning around to keep from turning his back on Alger Hiss and his buddies, had no apparent trouble selling President Truman on the British first idea.

Maybe it would be shocking to the diplomats if somebody in this country told the British to keep their noses out of our business. And it is probably impossible, anyway, so long as we keep on messing around with the United Nations. This idea of collective security was spawned by U. N. characters, but it didn't take the British long to twist that idea round to where it is today.

Walter Winchell on Broadway

Memos to the Editors

The Sunday papers quoted Gen. MacArthur. He said at the time of the Wake Island conference with the Comdr.-in-Chief (Oct. 15) no one in the U. S. Government had "the slightest idea" Red China would intervene in Korea . . . The President (in his Jackson Day dinner speech a week ago) declared he believed "on good authority" (meaning MacArthur) that Red China would not strike . . . How all, the White House—Field Headquarters—G2—and Central Intelligence missed it, I have no idea . . . But on Sept. 17 (a full month before the President and MacArthur met at Wake Island) the whispers about the coming Red offensive were so loud along the Chinese waterfront from Port Arthur to Hong Kong—I heard them in New York. Two months before the Red Chinese came in—and one month before the Wake Island conference — I reported this: "Russia strategy now calls for a Winter campaign in Korea. Heavy Russian Winter equipment is rolling east on the Trans-Siberian rails. Soviet Headquarters ordered Korea held at any cost . . . 300,000 reserves are mobilizing north of Seoul, making a total of 675,000 red troops in the field" . . . If you readers listeners and W. Winchell knew it, why didn't the President and General MacArthur? . . . I have warned before and I do again, a good Intelligence Service is not only our First Line of Defense—it may be our last.

This is the inside of what's going on in the enemy's command . . . Mao is now second . . . Lin Shao Chi is first in the chain of Moscow command . . . Mao told Stalin he was broke; that he had been promised 300 million; that he got only 150 and had spent 600 million . . . Casualties tremendous . . . Crowding all hospitals as far north as Nunkiang and as far south as Canton . . . Mao told Stalin he'd have to quit if he didn't get help . . . Stalin agreed to rush jets and to throw in the Japanese Red-screened army—100,000 fantatics . . . He told Mao to plunge all on an all-out offensive—and that he wanted Red China's flag in Pusan by June 25, the first anniversary of the war . . . Mao told Stalin he didn't want to go into the war and would like to get out . . . And so he's second in command now.

Sometimes you have to wait a long time to see your news confirmed . . . Frinstance: Some months ago I reported the "mysterious" whereabouts of Noel Field, one-time U. S. Army liaison officer . . . I said he was a Communist suspect—and that he was in a Lubianka Prison (Moscow) dungeon . . . His kinfolk over here challenged it. Said it couldn't be true. What proof? . . . Mike McDermott, press chief at the Dep't of State, wrote a letter asking me where I got that information . . . I told him a Red chief in East Berlin "talked too much in his cups" . . . The government was apparently unconvinced . . . Last week-end the Associated Press teletyped its papers that Noel Field was reported in Lubianka Prison, Moscow.

American Airlines' Rex Smith (who already had it anyway) earned the undying love of the Washington correspondents corps last week. Twenty-three top newsboys were flown to San Francisco to meet MacArthur with instructions to stay right with him . . . But when he pulled out for Washington aboard the Bataan there was no way for them to follow . . . Rex brought out the newest and fastest passenger job (a DC-6B), not even in service yet . . . The scribes took off an hour after Mac's plane—passed it over Pittsburgh and beat him to Washington by 30 minutes . . . The same guys Mac left on the ramp (at San Francisco) were waiting for him at the Capital . . . The General, used to fast flying, still hasn't figured out howcum.

Another great question of Constitutional law is coming up . . . The Highest Court has ruled that not even Congress can subpena the secret documents of the Defense and State Dep'ts . . . But once the Government uses them—it waives its right to secrecy . . . In short, the moment the Administration makes public some of the MacArthur code messages, the General has the Constitutional right to demand all be published . . . Because anything less is Not The Truth—The Whole Truth—And Nothing But The Truth . . . As required by law.

There isn't much fun in the newspapers these days, but this colyum got real satisfaction out of the conviction last week of Edw. A. Rumely of the peculiar Committee for Constitutional Government . . . We have been yelling about this super-patriot for more than ten years . . . A convicted pro-German agent, later pardoned, this trouble-maker's propaganda, etc. (financed by many gullible Americans believing him to be a Commy-fighter) may have caused you parents many a heartache.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

Whether or not you like Pearl Buck's latest book -- "God's Men," -- there is one paragraph in it that we may well memorize in capital letters.

Clem Miller, the principal character, believes in the value of food as a maker and keeper of the peace.

If he were President, he proclaims, he would make bread and meat free to everybody, and if he had a surplus he would send it to the hungry all over the world rather than destroy it to keep prices up.

And here is my favorite paragraph:

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

There, in a few words, is the background of most of the trouble in the world.

Despite all the high-toned motives attributed to many of the wars in history, almost all of them were caused by lack of food and of all that food stands for.

Conquerors of old went to war to get for themselves and their people what they did not have. They needed more territory on which to grow the products of the soil.

They needed—or wanted—more luxuries, more of the things that others had.

It was not always hunger for bread and meat and clothes.

Often it was hunger for another kind of food—food for the ego.

To conquerors and dictators and autocrats, power and glory, too, are food.

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

Analyze that a bit, if you please.

Germany had been conquered. She was humiliated. She was poor. She was hungry.

Then Hitler came along.

He fed the people. He fed their stomachs and their pride. He fed their age-old hunger for glory and display.

After he filled their bellies and their minds he preached to them—and they followed him.

Stalin is feeding his people while he is preaching the wonderful dream-world of Communism to them. If and when the people of Russia begin to go hungry—that will be the end of Stalin and of his Communism.

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

Here in America we are not hungry for bread or meat.

But many of us are hungry for spiritual food.

Clem Miller's philosophy may well be a cue to all ministers of the gospel.

You can preach religion all you want

But to make your congregations follow you and stay with you, you must make the Bible and the word of God FOOD to satisfy their craving for divine guidance and help in their daily lives.

Words, dogma, ritual, oratory alone cannot nourish the hungry soul.

Only if you let bread and wine of Christ be not merely a symbol but food for every day can you expect to supply the nourishment which the soul needs as much as the body.

Let your preachments be food and you will give the people happiness and peace.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Der Fuehrer's Yacht — ("The Grille, 476-foot $4,000,000 yacht, once given to Adolf Hitler by the German people, has been towed to Delaware where it will be scrapped to make war supplies for the American defense effort." —News Item.)

There she squats, Der Fuehrer's yacht,
Her days of glory through;
The junkyard got her in the end
As it got Adolf, too;
Oh, once she played the glamor ship
To Hitler's finger-snap . . .
Now only one command she hears
"Bust this babe up for scrap!"

II

Four million bucks she cost to build;
Her health Der Fuehrer drunk
(On cruises most infrequent for
His sailing form was punk);
The Lord of All the Earth, he felt,
Proclaiming it with ease . . .
But Adolf wasn't quite the type
To lord it on the seas.

III

Still she was called the Hitler ship
And in the stark mad days
She was a regal, haughty gal
With autocratic ways;
Aboard her Nazis sang the tune
"Der world is in der bag!" . . .
But now she meets the drabbest death,
A doomed, unpretty hag.

IV

Once Nazi sea lords strode her decks
With plans to lick us all;
Her cabins echoed with their boasts
Of how the foes would fall;
"Der Fuehrer!" rang the endless toasts,
"Dose Yankees ve vill schlam!"
And now from her a suit of mail
Is made for Uncle Sam!

V

From Eva's cabin there shall come
Gun parts for some G. I. . . .
Steel beams from Adolf's suite shall make
Planes for our lads to fly . . .
From where the Nazis banquetted
Shell cases may emerge;
This bridge into a tank shall go
For some Korean surge!

VI

In freedom's cause each bolt shall serve
In war fought hot or cold;
Swastikas have no power now—
No Fuehrer bellows "Hold!" . . .
Far off "Ach, Gott!" a ghost exclaims,
"More bad news and more yet!
Look! Donnerwetter! Von more proof

Elbert Lamb, Formerly Of Borough, Dies

East Orange, N.J. — Elbert N. (Bert) Lamb, long a resident of Stroudsburg, died at the General hospital here yesterday after a three-weeks illness. He was 64 and a resident of 44 Hawthorne Ave., here.

He was the brother of Mrs. William N. Walton, 325 Colbert St., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Lamb was the former superintendent of elections in Essex county, N.J. Born here, he was a son of the late Henry A. and Clara A. Lamb. He married Miss Frances Back, Newark, in 1913, and made his residence in Stroudsburg.

At the time of his marriage Mr. Lamb was working at the Erie railroad car shops in Stroudsburg. He was employed there until just before the shops were abandoned. While a resident in Stroudsburg, Mr. Lamb was a member of the Monroe County Republican committee.

The Lambs moved to East Orange in 1918. Mr. Lamb was sergeant-at-arms of the 1933 New Jersey Legislature. That same year he was appointed chief deputy to Essex superintendent of elections, A. H. Rachlin. In 1934 he was elected to a five-year term by the Legislature.

He immediately instituted a series of economies in the office which resulted in a saving of $30,000 his first year in office. A strong advocate of voting machines, he also opposed moves in 1938 to deprive WPA workers and persons on relief from their right to vote. He did provoke a controversy over his ruling that a person could vote only in the election district in which he actually lived.

In recent years he was salesman for Flagstaff Food Co. Prior to that he operated Riverdale lodge.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and member of Corinthian Lodge F. & A.M. of Orange. He was organizer and president of the Morning club of Newark which once wielded considerable political influence.

His wife, a brother, Harry, East Orange, and his sister, Mrs. Walton, Stroudsburg, survive.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Oxley funeral home, 286 Roseville Ave., Newark, N.J. Interment in Restland Memorial park Friday morning.

Value of Home Depends Upon Five Factors

There are five major factors that create or destroy value in residential property, according to Alfred A. Ring, associate professor of real estate at the University of Florida.

Dr. Ring lists these factors in an article, "What Makes Value," written for The Review, official publication of the Society of Residential Appraisers.

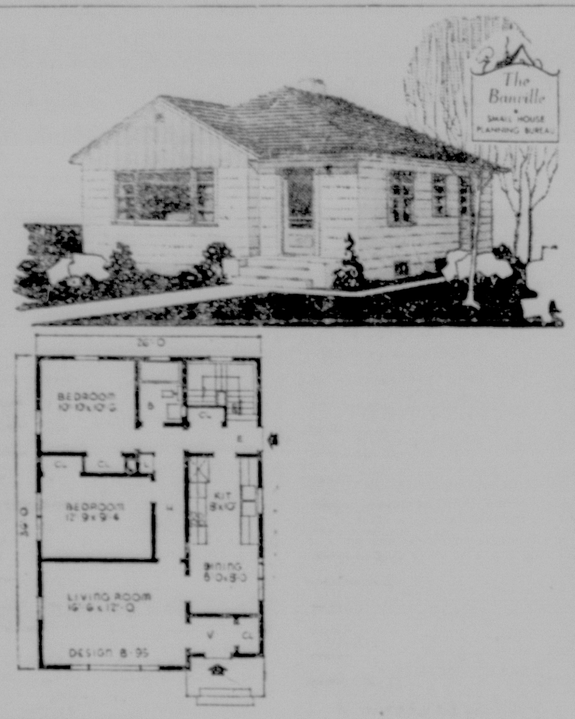

They are: Homogeneous, civic-minded and law-abiding neighbors; pleasing and well-blending architectural designs of homes in the surrounding community; convenient location to shopping areas, churches and schools; absence of noise, traffic, smoke and dust; and desirable and effective zoning, deed and building restrictions.

The term value, as used by real estate men, is best defined, Dr. Ring says, as "the highest price which a willing seller, not forced to sell, will accept from a willing buyer, not forced to buy, assuming that both parties act intelligently and are fully informed, and that sufficient time is had to consider the transaction with due care."

Appraisers too have their problems, it seems.

Where appraisers run into trouble, Dr. Ring writes, is not in determining the physical value of a home, for stone, wood and mortar can be evacuated generally with little difficulty.

It is in study economic information, in measuring the nature of depreciation and in forseeing future events that appraisers run into snags.

THE BANVILLE is designed for a narrow lot. It has two bedrooms, living room and a combination kitchen-dining room. The front entrance leads into a vestibule with a coat closet; rear entry to basement, kitchen and bedroom hall, with a closet also provided.

Kitchen cabinets are on opposite walls with double compartment sink under window, stove and refrigerator on inside wall. Dining area, at end of kitchen, has double windows and is connected with living room.

Bedrooms have ample wall space for furniture. Wardrobe type closets have storage space overhead. Central hall opens freely to all rooms.

Plans call for a frame construction with siding exterior. Hip roof is planned to have asphalt shingles.

The dimensions are 26 feet by 36 feet. The floor area is 924 square feet and cubage is 18,480 cubic feet, including full basement.

For further information about THE BANVILLE, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Package Plan Mortgage Is Now In Use

The "Packaged mortgage" in which equipment and appliances are included in the selling price of a new home, is widely appreciated by home buyers and is helping to keep the sale of houses at record levels, according to American Builder magazine.

Advantage of the packaged mortgage, American Builder explains, is that it enables the buyer to amortize the cost of equipment as well as the cost of the house itself over a long period of time. Less ready cash is needed.

A survey made by the trade magazine shows that 89 per cent of new houses have built-in kitchen cabinets, 35 per cent have gas or electric ranges, 28 per cent have gas or electric refrigerators, 18 per cent have automatic dishwashers, 20 per cent have garbage disposal units and 34 per cent have kitchen ventilating fans.

Builders participating in the survey said they include venetian blinds in 42 per cent of their new houses, window shades in 30 per cent, mail chutes in 27 per cent, door chimes in 61 per cent, clothes closet equipment in 23 per cent and hot water heaters in 92 per cent.

How To Stipple

Stippling is an effect produced by striking a painted surface while it is still wet with the ends of the bristles of a special type of brush called a "stippling brush". The result is a uniform pebbly surface. Roller stipplers are also used as time savers.

Chimneys Balk

The cause of a faulty chimney can often be traced to downdrafts caused by surrounding trees or tall buildings. If this is the case, a properly designed chimney top may be helpful in deflecting troublesome air currents.

Oiling Floors

If you use linseed oil to oil floors mix one part of turpentine with four parts of oil. It will penetrate more readily and dry more quickly.

Don't Dry Wet Wash In Home

Washing clothes in the kitchen, then hanging wet clothes all through the apartment, wrecks buildings, a public housing investigating committee has found.

"When laundry is done in the home, the daily washing is hung up to dry in every room of the unit," Fred R. Kretschmar of the Detroit Housing Commission reported after a maintenance conference with other public housing superintendents.

"There is no means of moisture removal, and the entire building is badly damaged in a short time," he said.

"Condensation rusts out steel sash or deteriorates wood sash, ruins the paint job and causes plaster to come off the walls eventually."

The investigators agreed that, if it could possibly be avoided, no laundering should be done in an apartment suite.

Choice locations for laundering, in a large housing development, were found to be in the order of preference:

Individual basement laundries, group laundry in the basement of each building or attached to the building at grade level, central laundry for all buildings in basement or attached to one building at grade level.

Buying Guide For Gadgets

When investing in "gadgets" for the home a good buying guide to follow is:

First—Those that help save money; second—those that offer a safety or health measure; third—gadgets that are a convenience; last—the tricky ones that are of no great use but somehow are irresistible because of their sheer "gadgetiness."

Thermostats deserve a place well up in the money-saving group. Studies show that fuel costs increase 3.2 per cent for each degree house temperatures rise, unregulated, above the comfort level.

Headboard Beds Fit Small Home

You can have headboard beds in a one-room apartment by dividing your room, according to Paul MacAlister, nationally known authority on interior decorating.

It requires careful planning in a small space, but MacAlister has worked out an ingenious arrangement which makes two well balanced rooms out of one. He suggests inserting a low storage wall at right angles to the room wall to form a partition between the sleeping and living areas of the room.

To further separate the two sections of the room a row of plants could be placed on top of the storage wall, or a simple latticed framework can be built with vines trained over it. Such room dividers frequently have been made into decorative assets which give no hint of their utilitarian purpose, but would seem to be designed for effect alone.

The storage wall, then, serves as a background for the beds and head-board, and will provide an effective contrast to the headboard upholstery. The bedspreads, a slipper chair and the end wall can be done in color contrast to the living area to set it off as a "second room."

Natural Pine For Kitchens

Chimney Pots Now Used For Roof Designs

Chimney pots are always a picturesque feature of the design of a house. They may be of many forms—simple pots for Colonial dwellings, or products of English Gothic, Tudor or Georgian designs taken from old manor houses of England.

For the city house, suburban home or country estate, these pots are practical and appropriate. They add a final touch that gives the chimney a definitely finished appearance.

The chimney pot at its apex should not be less than two feet higher than the nearest peak roof and not less than three feet higher than the nearest flat roof. The flue of the pot should not be smaller than the chimney flue, although a larger flue is thoroughly practical. A round pot can be used with a rectangular flue or vice versa.

It's Goodbye To France But Not Forever

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

New York — To return to one's native heath is always a thrill. Never has the United States looked so fine. But given another opportunity to earn our way, we would like to go to Spain. England, France and Italy are costly with their new American prices. After our recognition of Spain and resumption of trade, it too will raise its prices. Now one can have the best room in a Ritz hotel in Spain for $1.85 and the most luxurious dinner for $.80!

Ruth H. Ottaway

Farewell, Paris

Farewell, Paris, and your inevitable potato soup masquerading as "legumes" (vegetable) and with a water base. Where, or where, is your famous "soupe oignon"?

A glad goodbye to your telephone operators. Worst system in the world. "Ah-low" (hello), clicks and dense silence. After ten minutes a voice says in French or English, "I did not catch."

Tra-la-loo, you old French cabs, ready to collapse and with an eight-inch board inside of the door to hurdle.

And your black market. That is your great trouble, France. Official rate, 350 francs to the dollar. One chap gives you 365, the street crooks, 390, if you like, which you don't. After you have paid bills with American Express checks at the regular rate, you suddenly find that all shops give 12 per cent off, and one gave 12 and then lo! Even then they sell the checks at a profit on the black market.

Dear, Old France

A toast to you, dear, old France! We are glad that you all eat well whether you have anything else or not. Such steaks, such omelettes, cheeses, pastry, crepes, croissants!

We salute your gaiety, you women who always look chic. Even during the war, they made earrings of starched lace, and lacking money for hats, threw scarfs over their heads and started a world-wide fashion.

Amour, toujours amour is in your air. Your galantry, charming and meaningless, we adore. "The gods above us, our women seated, we on our knees," you Frenchmen say, but madame at the cash-box straightens you out.

Old, and yet young, and very beautiful, we salute you, Paris, and your celebration next summer of your 2000th anniversary.

"Boom '51"

We have given you American jazz of the finest. Hooray for what you have done with it! For your host clubs, your sardines in a box "hot-spot" where the Dixieland Jazz band makes the air blue.

For your recent international salon of jazz celebrating your 50th anniversary of American jazz in France attended by 5000 jazz artists.

For the trumpets of our Larry our Benny Goodmans which you make at Chateau-Thierry and Mantes, and for your export of 40,000,000 trumpets annually in addition to supplying France with one million.

Knock Three Times

Your ancient custom of many small knocks and then three, long and loud, before the curtain rises in your theaters intrigued us. Our turn now. Have we knocked three times? Pardon, messieurs et mesdames! There is so much of good that we can say about you.

France On Her Feet

You are on your feet, France, and ready to defend yourself. Communism is less popular. You are evolving a new electoral system which will give the people the desired opportunity to oust the Communists from the Government. Your inner strength of the ages is coming to the fore. You are versatile and vibrant, and also as keen as your President Auriol whose visit to the United States awakened a new confidence in you.

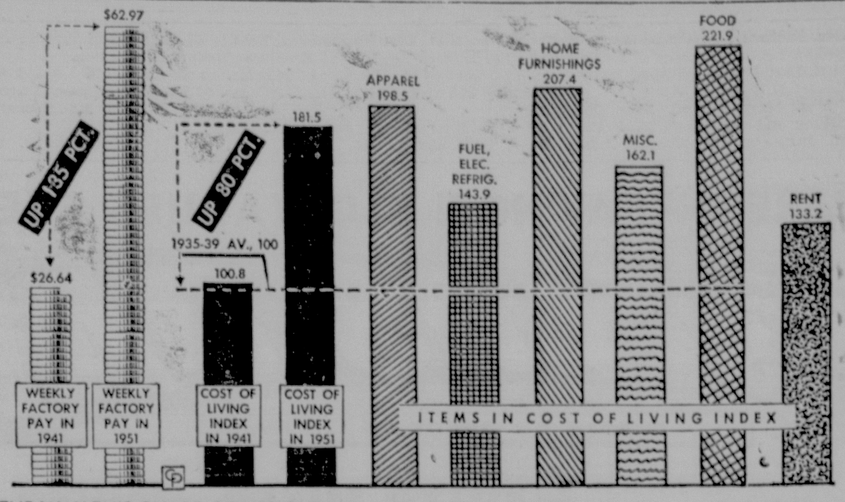

We are forever indebted to you for your contribution to civilization in music, literature, the arts and science.

We will try to forget Vichy if you will pull together to carry out your splendid rehabilitation and defense program which now you give every evidence of doing.

Goodbye, Paris

Goodbye to the Place de la Concorde with its hundreds of lights, splashing fountains, and whirling traffic; to the Champs Elysee and the Arc de Triomph.

Goodbye to forty million berets and smiling faces. Goodbye, France, but not forever. (End of series of 49 articles on London and Paris.)

THE WAY THIS CHART COMES OUT, the working man's income has increased way ahead of the cost of living. The figures, from the Labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, are for the month of January. "Weekly factory pay" figures represent payrolls for 13,000,000 production employes throughout the United States.

New Members Inducted By Honor Society

New members of East Stroudsburg High school's honor society were inducted into membership during a recent "little commencement" ceremony in the school auditorium.

Walter A. Stem, adviser to the group, was in charge of the ceremony.

Guest speaker was Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent of schools.

"Be somebody!" he urged students. "Learn to direct yourselves, learn to make proper decisions, set up self-standards, cultivate your vision to see, develop your ability to do and make yourself mind you."

He reminded "success in life consists in making the most of the best that's in you."

"Worthwhile people just do not happen," he asserted. "You aren't born worthwhile . . . you are born with the possibilities of becoming worthwhile.

"Your job," he continued, "is to discover and develop the man or woman you should be. Robert Louis Stevenson said: 'Sooner or later we sit down to the banquet of circumstances'."

Music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Bettejo Goodall at the piano and Charlotte Herman at the organ.

Principals To Prepare Broadcasts

Supervising principals of Monroe county schools have agreed to prepare the groundwork for a series of four one-half hour vocational guidance programs to be broadcast over WVPO.

At a special meeting called by Superintendent John C. Litts educators agreed to arrange a broad program based upon questions concerning various occupations from high school seniors. Four panels will be arranged with five members each.

The questions will govern what vocations and occupations will be discussed on the air.

Panel members will be asked to tell about their occupation, why they chose it and give its advantages and disadvantages.

Open Discussion Closes Annual District Rotary Conference At Buck Hill

Buck Hill Falls—The annual conference of District 262, Rotary International, closed here yesterday morning with a "town meeting" of clubs centering in the northeastern Pennsylvania region presenting their suggestions and opimons.

District Governor Walter S. Peeney, past president of the Stroudsburg club and presiding officer, conducted all sessions of the conference.

The 1951 conference attracted 700 persons at the Governor's ball and banquet Tuesday night, some 200 more than the attendance a year ago.

The dinner was followed by a novelty ball in the North room. This colorful affair, with many attending in formal attire, was actually the climax to the four-day conference.

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, president of the Stroudsburg club, gave the invocation at the dinner meeting. Franz Polgar, famous hypnotist, had an amusing performance in the crowded auditorium after the dinner.

Novelty ball was held in the North room after Mr. Polgar's entertainment. The room was decorated with 1,000 balloons in clusters as one of the novelty features.

Walter Fossa, past president of Mount Pocono Rotary, was master of ceremonies. He directed the series of fun novelties, aided by Bob McCluster's Allentown orchestra. Selma Kane was vocalist.

Otto Weyand, past district governor, won a much publicized "door prize" during the dance—a battered old door. Dr. William Toewe, secretary of Stroudsburg club and chairman of the convention committee, made the presentation.

Edward C. Jenkins, president of Pocono Mountains club, handled arrangements for the four-day convention at the Inn. Gardenias were presented to all ladies attending.

Nick Rahn, district governor-elect and Mrs. Rahn, District Governor and Mrs. Walter S. Peeney, received all who attended the Governor's dinner and dance.

CIO Head Taken Seriously Ill

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Philip Murray, who rose from a 30-cent-a-day coal miner's helper to become head of the CIO and the United Steelworkers, lies seriously ill in a Pittsburgh hospital with an abdominal ailment.

The quiet-spoken, silver-haired labor leader was taken to Mercy hospital Sunday. He had become ill following a weekend dinner in Youngstown.

His office described his ailment as "a very severe abdominal complaint." The office said Murray is suffering from acute pancreatis (inflammation of the pancreas—an important organ of digestion). The hospital described his condition as fair.

The CIO head will be 65 May 25.

Farm Laborers May Be Deferred

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine's farm labor advisory council yesterday released a plan to aid draft boards in deferring farm workers.

Miles Horst, State Agriculture secretary and council chairman, said the plan sets up a point system for determining whether a farmer is sufficiently important in his job to warrant deferring.

Horst said points will be determined generally by the number of animals on a farm, its size and man hours required to operate the farm. Farm youths with sufficient points would be deferred.

Horst emphasized that the point system plan will not be mandatory for draft boards to follow, but rather is intended only for guidance purposes.

Housewives Told To Buy Sugar Now

Washington, (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan suggested yesterday that housewives stock up on sugar now in anticipation of canning season needs.

He made the suggestion in a letter to Senator Ellender (D-La) who had asked if something should not be done to bolster producer prices. The agriculture department made the correspondence public.

Brannan said prices are relatively low because consumer buying is off. He said that unless there is stocking now the canning season might bring shortages in stores, not because of a shortage of sugar but because of transportation difficulties.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When you see the twinkle in the eyes, the quirk of a smile in our two women with 88 and 90 years behind them, makes you sort of ashamed of the way you grunt and groan at less than half their age.

It probably added ten years to my life, though, to spend the afternoon at a purely social function—which isn't supposed to be in the paper, even.

Of course that's the time when you pick up more things you'd like to write about than any time.

However, there's only room to note that if Al Sterner starts chirping it's only because he's trying to round up some more canaries. About 300 entries for the pet show at the Y on Saturday, and only one canary. He wants the whole lobby full of them, so you women better clean out the bird cage and take your feathered friend over where he can make like a glee club with the other birds.

Noted Cellist Climax Of Concert Here

Pocono Community Concert association climaxed its season with the concert given by Edmund Kurtz, cellist, on Monday night at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers college when he was enthusiastically received by the large audience.

Leo Nadelman, Swiss pianist, who played his accompanist was also acclaimed by the audience for his solo work, and the blending of talents made Rachmaninoff's Sonata in G minor one of the high points of the program.

There were many high points, however, in the program which gave full scope to both to the sensitivity of Mr. Kurtz' interpretations in such numbers as the Villa-Lobos "Song of the Black Swan" and Boccherini's Adagio and Allegro movement from a sonata, as well as his unsurpassed technical skill in Piatti's "Tarantella."

YANKEE REBELS—These fifth grade students at East Stroudsburg Elementary school just finished a course of study on the "deep south." They didn't worry about who won the Civil War . . . their main interest lay in the South's history and products. Showing off the results here are members of the class, taught by Miss Leila N. Bruch.

Fifth Graders Complete Study Centered On South

East Stroudsburg Elementary school's fifth grade, taught by Miss Leila M. Bruch, has completed a unit entitled "Southern States Products."

Students began their study, one of many that is being made of various countries of the world and their products, by visiting stores in search of pictures and products of the south.

Reports on these were prepared through the use of reference books, texts and magazines.

All classes were utilized in the study. In English pupils composed poems about cotton and wrote letters in search of more information and materials.

The settlements of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and the possession of Florida by the Spanish were reviewed in history class.

Trees of the south were studied in science and students learned of the destructive cotton boll weevil.

In art pupils made citrus fruit figures under the supervision of Mrs. Valeska Heller and painted and shellacked peanuts for necklaces and bracelets.

Miss Marguerite Cramer introduced music of the south, stressing the compositions of Stephen Foster.

Under the direction of Larry Haberle, of the physical education class, students learned how to dance the Virginia reel and minuet.

Students who took part in the study were Grant Booth, Horace Cole, Thomas Kintner, Thomas Lambert, Louis Mayers, Dale Metzgar, Ronald Mursch, Ronald Neipert, Terry Siptroth, William Tough, Ronald Van Why, Robert Werkheiser, Doris Wolbert.

Pen Argyl Girl Hurt When Car Rams Into Pole

Wind Gap — A 16-year-old Pen Argyl girl received a fractured elbow and severe lacerations of the face here early yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger struck a service pole along Route 115.

State police said the girl, Ernestine Sabatine, of 530 Broad St., Pen Argyl, was taken to Allentown hospital for treatment.

The vehicle was operated by James Uliana, 19, of Bangor RD 4, who told the troopers he fell asleep and the car careened off the road. He was unhurt.

New Jersey Senate Okays Freeway For Road Network Opposite Delaware Water Gap

Trenton, N. J.—The New Jersey State Senate yesterday passed a bill designed to add a freeway to the existing State highway network on the New Jersey side of Delaware Water Gap.

The bill, introduced by State Sen. Robert B. Meyner, of Warren county, was passed unanimously and sent to the Assembly.

Meyner's measure directs the highway commissioner to add the freeway from Route Eight to a point in Pahaquarry township where construction of a bridge over the Delaware is under consideration.

The point, situated north of Columbia, N. J., and opposite the borough of Delaware Water Gap in Pennsylvania, is reported to be the same place where the proposed interstate bridge would touch the New Jersey side of the river.

The Interstate Bridge commission announced plans for the proposed bridge from Delaware Water Gap borough to the New Jersey side of the river several months ago. Soundings along both sides of the river were completed last fall.

Under the term "freeway," the New Jersey Highway department controls accesses to the highway as well as strips on both sides of the thoroughfare. Its primary purpose is to prevent the construction of advertising signs and buildings which might detract from the scenery.

The measure passed by the State Senate yesterday stipulates that the freeway be established from existing Route Eight in New Jersey. Route Eight extends westward from Newton through Blairstown and Hainesburg to Columbia where it meets Route Six at the covered bridge leading to Portland.

Stroudsburg High Blanks Pen Argyl For Initial Victory, 7-0

Eilenberger, Fetherman Fill Starring Roles

Stroudsburg High school got a combination of good pitching and solid hitting at Gordon Giffels field yesterday afternoon and the magic formula carried the Mountaineers to their first victory of the season a 7-0 non-league verdict over Pen Argyl. The outcome of the contest was never in doubt, as the Mountaineers jumped into a one run lead in the first inning and maintained the edge the remainder of the distance.

Bob "Will" Eilenberger lefthanded his way to a comfortable three-hit verdict over the defending Lehigh-Northampton league and District 11 champions. Alden "Red" Fetherman, working out of center field, led the Stroudsburg attack with a single, double and triple, the latter coming with the bases crammed in the fourth frame.

Stroudsburg's initial run came in the first on a walk to Les Slutter, a stolen base by the same fleet outfielder, and a single to right by Jack Newell.

All was quiet until the third when another walk to Slutter, a sacrifice by Newell and a double to left by Fetherman accounted for one more tally.

Big Blow

Layton DeHaven walked, Slutter was safe on an error and Newell worked pitcher Jack Bellis for a free ticket to fill the sacks in the bottom half of the fourth. Fetherman cleared the bases with a ringing triple to the fence in left center field.

The home team completed the scoring in the sixth with two more counters. Singles by Fetherman, Gene Caskie and Jerry Fritz, and a stolen base by Caskie, accounted for the final markers, with the help of an infield out by Floyd Williams.

Pen Argyl had the bases loaded on two hits and an error in the third, but Eilenberger continued his crafty pitching and got out of his only serious jam of the day. The final Pen Argyl hit came in the fifth.

Eilenberger fanned two and walked the same number, but had the opposing club hitting easy balls to both the infield and outfield all day.

Brown Treats Diamond Boss

New York (AP) — A painful stomach ailment, which was later diagnosed as a kidney stone, sent Manager Casey Stengel to Lenox Hill hospital yesterday.

The New York Yankee field boss was stricken before the game with the Philadelphia Athletics. He was first treated by Trainer Gus Mauch and was preparing to leave for an examination by Dr. Jacques Fischl, the club physician, when in walked Dr. Bobby Brown.

Improves

Casey brightened up immediately. Brown, the Yankee third baseman, had been serving an internship in San Francisco and Stengel wasn't counting on his services this year. The 26-year-old infielder told Casey he intended to play with the club until called up by his draft board.

"You're just the man I'm looking for—not as a player but a doctor," said Stengel. "My stomach's giving me hell."

Former Stroudsburg High Athletes To Honor Retired Cage Mentor With Testimonial Dinner

Alfred W. Munson, principal at Stroudsburg High school, announced last night that a Testimonial Dinner has been planned for T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, retired basketball coach, to be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home on Thursday, May 24, at 6:30 p. m. The gala affair is being made possible by all former athletes at the W. Main St. school.

Curtis retired as basketball coach at Stroudsburg High after more than 20 years of active duty at the end of the 1950-51 campaign.

Twenty-two interested men attended the first planning meeting at Stroudsburg High last night, at which time it was decided to present Curtis with a suitable gift at the banquet.

The group also decided to use this Testimonial Dinner to establish a Varsity Athletic club at the high school and to begin the ball rolling toward an annual Letterman's Banquet in future years. Letter winners in baseball, football, and basketball at Stroudsburg High during the past school year will also be guests at the testimonial.

However, the group didn't decide upon a price of admission at last night's gathering. The group will meet again on Monday night, at Stroudsburg High.

Munson stated last night that it was impossible to contact everyone during the past week, but an effort will be made to get in touch with all representatives slated to appear at Monday's gathering.

In addition to Munson, last night's meeting was attended by Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools; Jerry Stulgaitis, football and baseball coach and Sam Wells, assistant principal and assistant football coach at the high school. The list also included Lester "Pug" Boushell, Forrest "Chris" Haney, Warren "Mag" Loney, Chet Gross, Larry Levy, Elmer Rinehart, Harold "Lefty" Reaser, Horace McConnell, Tom Shiffer, Ray "Frenchy" Catudal, Bill Weber, Bob Denicker, Paul "Muff" Warnick, Will Miller, Bill Crooks, Gene "Jabby" Hofstadt, Bill Marean, Harry Armitage, John Howe and Dick Lee.

Last night's meeting featured classes as far back as 1934, but Monday's gathering will also be attended by representatives back as far as 1925, it is hoped.

More than 200 are expected to attend the banquet.

Schoonover Announces Starting Lineup For Pocono A. C. Exhibition At Riegel Ridge

John Schoonover, manager of the Pocono A. C. entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league, was fairly certain of his starting lineup for the home-and-home exhibition series with Riegel Ridge, of the Tri-County league, on Saturday and Sunday, following last night's practice session at Gordon Giffels field.

Although practice has been very limited because of weather conditions, Schoonover appeared quite pleased with the condition of his club and is hopeful of enjoying a successful campaign against Blue Mountain league competition this season.

Schoonover announced that Saturday's pitchers will be Russell "Lindy Transue and Clint Besecker, while Chet Lucki and Redge Flannagan will toe the rubber when the two-game series moves to Giffels field on Sunday. On both occasions the games begin at 2:30 p. m.

Pocono A. C. will answer the starting signal on Saturday with Danny Eppley on first base; Dewey Martling, second base; Don Sweda, third base and Al Bachman, shortstop. John Drews will handle the catching assignment. The outfield will find Dick Schaller in right, Doug Schoonover in center and Bob Schick in left.

Changes

However, Schoonover pointed out that there will be a couple of changes when the two teams play before Monroe county spectators on Sunday.

Riegel Ridge finished the 1950 campaign in third place, but won the Governor's Cup in the post-season playoff series staged by the Tri-County league.

There will be no admission charged for Sunday's game, but a collection will be taken up. The admission free gate has been arranged by the local club in an effort to sell it and its brand of baseball to the fans of the area.

The regular Blue Mountain league campaign is scheduled to get under way a week from Sunday.

Yanks Blank A's Behind Lopat, 3-0

New York (AP)— Ed Lopat, the easy going lefthander, hurled a four-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight victory and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

Three Runs

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Bobby Shantz, little Philadelphia southpaw, was reached for only six hits but the world champions collected three of them in the opening frame for all of their runs.

Legion Grads In Major Leagues

Indianapolis (AP)—The National headquarters of the American Legion said yesterday 90 of the 185 baseball players who participated in the opening games of the major leagues formerly played on Legion Junior teams.

Eight of the 16 starting pitchers played Legion Junior baseball, the Legion said. They are:

Cliff Chambers of Pittsburgh, Larry Jansen of New York, Frank Hiller of Chicago and Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, in the National League, and Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Vic Raschi of New York, Ned Garver of St. Louis and Hal Newhouser of Detroit in the American League.

Drop In Attendance

New York (AP)—Blame it on the weather, TV, General MacArthur or the cost of living, but Major league baseball attendance is off some 22 per cent for the first week of the season.

Actually more home dates were played this year than last, 45 to 40, and there were fewer postponements, 13-8, than last spring.

Phillies Take Measure Of Giants Under Lights

Philadelphia, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies socked six New York hurlers for 12 hits, including five two baggers and a triple, to defeat the Giants 6-4 in the second game of the series last night.

Bob Miller, making his first start of the season did not allow a hit until the fifth inning. Then he ran into trouble but weathered the storm until two out in the ninth when Jim Konstanty was called in to get Monte Irvin out with the tying runs on base.

The Phils picked up their first run in the second when Del Wilber drove a triple past Don Mueller and scored after "Whitey" Lockman caught Ed Pellagrini's long foul. They added three more in the fourth after two out. Miller and Ed Waitkus singled and both scored on Richie Ashburn's double. Willie Jones' two bagger sent Ashburn home.

Three Counters

New York picked up three in the fifth as Bobby Thomson got the Giants' first hit on a hard bounder along the third base line and Henry Thompson singled to right. Wes Westrum singled Thomson home. Ed Stanky walked and when Al Dark singled Thompson came home. Del Ennis fumbled the ball and Westrum also scored.

The Phils, however, came back in their half, knocked Jack Kramer off the mound and counted once on four hits. Hamner opened with a double but was doubled up when he tried to go to third on Wilber's fly to center.

Ed Pellagrini, Miller and Waitkus hit safely in succession to count Pellagrini. Monte Kennedy replaced Kramer and fanned Ashburn.

Each club scored in the sixth. Monte Irvin singled, went to third on two infield outs and crossed on Don Mueller's hit. In the Phils half Jones singled, was forced at second by Ennis who crossed the plate on Ed Sanicki's double.

Bangor Takes Measure Of Hellertown

Hellertown—Bangor High school opened the 1951 Lehigh-Northampton league baseball season with a convincing 8-3 victory over Hellertown High here yesterday afternoon, on the losing team's home field. Glen Raph went the distance for the Bangor club and allowed only five singles over the nine inning route.

The game was evenly played for the first eight innings, with the visiting team trailing for the most part, only to blow the contest wide open with a four-run rally in the top of the ninth and final frame.

Bangor touched Bob Heffner for one run in the second round, only to have Hellertown move into a 2-1 lead in the bottom portion of the same inning.

Scoring

The home team took a 3-1 advantage in the bottom of the sixth, only to have Bangor score one time in the seventh. The charges of Coach Dave Thomas moved out in front with two runs in the eighth and put the contest on ice with the four run splurge in the ninth.

Raph, a strong armed right hander, pitched a brilliant game, retiring 14 Hellertown batters on strikes and walking only four.

Len Castellucci, Gene Frace, Dominic DeFranco, Joe D'Imperio, and Asa Pysher paced the Bangor offensive with two hits each.

Bangor dropped its three exhibition contests this season but came through with flying colors yesterday when the chips were down.

The Slaters remain idle until next Tuesday, when they play host to Coplay, at Bangor park.

The two first round matches held found Glen Raph defeating Bob Egbert, 21-7 and 21-17, while Duane Miller took the measure of Tom DePaolo, 21-14 and 21-7.

Second Round

Second round activity found Bert Horvath downing Art Altorfer, 21-11, and 21-12; George Updegrove falling before Don Williams, 21-10 and 21-15; Denny Pritchard beating Bill Shook, 21-14 and 21-16; Asa Pysher downing Joe Heard, 17-21, 21-13 and 22-20, while Jim Rowlands took the measure of Raph, 21-8 and 21-13.

Action in the tournament will be resumed tomorrow night, at 7. Several matches postponed from last night will be fitted into tomorrow's agenda.

Earns Split Verdict

White Plains, N. Y. (AP)—Tony Allegro, 137, New York, won a split eight-round decision over Roman Alverez, 141, New York, in the feature boxing bout at the Community Center last night.

OUT—Floyd Williams, Stroudsburg High school first sacker, is pictured above being thrown out at first base in the sixth inning on a grounder to the shortstop. Charley Cesare is pictured taking the throw. However, Stroudsburg went on to score a 7-0 victory over Pen Argyl yesterday.

Barrett Scores Pre-Season Decision Over Greene-Dreher

Newfoundland—Barrett High school's baseball team scored in five of seven innings here yesterday afternoon to account for a convincing 13-5 victory in the first outing of the campaign for both teams, prior to entering the Monroe county and Wayne county conference campaigns.

Coach Joe Murray's Barrett contingent touched Francis Curtis, a right hander, for two runs in the first round and was headed only once thereafter. The visiting contingent picked up another counter in the third, five more in the fourth and wound up the day's activity with two in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Four Runs

Greene-Dreher reached Weiskopf for four runs in the third frame and held a brief lead, only to see it go up in smoke in the fourth. The home team pushed across its final run in the seventh and last inning.

Ehrgood moved in from his second base position to hurl the last couple of innings.

Feller Tames Pale Hose For Indians

Cleveland (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox yesterday with a 5 to 2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1 his first time out, fanned only one, his ex-team mate Eddie Robinson and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

Anniversary

Yesterday incidentally was the fiftieth anniversary of the start of the American league—on April 24, 1901. Cleveland and Chicago met in Chicago on that day too—all other games being rained out—and Chicago won 8-2.

With a cold crowd of 5,162 looking on yesterday, the Indians grabbed a two-run lead in the second inning and stayed in front. In that inning, Merrill Combs scored Larry Doby from first with a double.

Westlake Stars As Pirates Trip Cubs

Chicago (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs in a rain-delayed game before 5,750 yesterday.

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

Before the rainfall Buc righthander Vernon Law seemed headed for a nifty four-hitter. But the Cubs chased him in their half of the eighth, and fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law. The loser was rookie Omar "Turk" Lown, who lasted seven innings.

Westlake, who also drove across a fourth run with a sixth inning single, saved the day for the Pirates in the eighth when he speared Andy Pafko's smash in deep left center and doubled Phil Cavarretta off second base.

Rally

Cavarretta had followed Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff double and Bob Dillinger's bobble on "Hank" Sauer's grounder with a whistling twobagger to right field. That put across two runs and brought in Werle as Law's successor with none out and the Cubs behind 6-4.

After Westlake's fine catch on Pafko's liner, Bill Serena doubled, but Werle put out the fire by getting the next batter on a popup. It was Werle's fourth relief appearance. He now has hurled ten scoreless innings.

Lown, making his Cub debut, got in trouble right at the start when he walked George Metkovich and Ralph Kiner and then tossed a homerun ball to Westlake.

The sixth sealed Lown's fate. With one Buc out, Kiner slammed a rarity for him, a two-bagger down the right field foul line. A wild pitch advanced Kiner to third before Westlake pumped him home with a single. Monty Basgall's single moved Westlake to third. Clyde McCullough smashed a drive to left center which eluded Andy Pafko for a double, Westlake and Basgall scoring for a 6-2 Buc lead.

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

On again, off again is the story of the Stroudsbugr-East Stroudsburg High school meeting on the baseball diamond this year. Just when it appeared as if the two schools had reached an acceptable date for the big clash, the entire affair blew sky high, when it was learned that the East Stroudsburg club would be seriously hampered by the loss of key pitchers on Wednesday, May 23, the date which was announced as official on Monday night. The latest turn of events leaves the situation where it was last week.

East Stroudsburg is scheduled to play Fountain Hill on Monday, May 21, and if the Stroudsburg date would have been filled, it would have meant that the Cavaliers would play two games in three days, with only one hurler available. The remainder of the pitching corps would be in Washington. The change in plans means that a new date will have to be found. The two schools had better reach an agreement, but quick, as the 1950 season is already under way and will be over before any of us realize it.

It was learned yesterday that Stroudsburg had reached a tentative date with Bangor for that annual diamond struggle. Although no confirmation has been received, the contest is expected to be played on Wednesday, May 16, at Gordon Giffels field. Reports reaching this corner after yesterday's game was that one of the Pen Argyl pitchers was injured in an automobile accident and was unable to accompany Coach Fred "Benny" Leonard and company to the local ball yard yesterday.

Red faces are as plentiful in this sports business as in any other walk of life—take it from me, I know. I mentioned the fact that Jake Nittel is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars bowling team, the number one club in the Record Major league, only to find out that I had the right circuit but the wrong team. Jake rolled with Crowe's Insurance during the past campaign. I guess it's a case of having the right league but the wrong alley.

Yesterday's postponement of today's tennis match between the girls of ESSTC and Swarthmore sweeps the Normal Hill athletic calendar clear of any activity until Saturday, when every squad except the men's tennis team moves into action. Don "Buddy" Judge, Tobyhanna Township High school, will play with Pocono A. C. during the coming summer months, following the Monroe County league season.

Jack Milne, former Lafayette baseball and basketball star, will play with Washington, N. J., of the Tri-County league, this season. Milne played a couple of games against the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College nine on the Normal Hill field in past years. The Washington club is in the same circuit as Riegel Ridge, the club who will oppose Pocono A. C., in a home and home exhibition series during the coming weekend. Saturday's game will be at Riegel Ridge, while the second contest will be at Gordon Giffels field on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30.

Elmer Valo, outfielder for the Philadelphia A's, who made that sensational catch against the Yankees in left field yesterday at the Stadium, is almost an annual visitor to Monroe county, either as a speaker or basketball official during the winter months. Valo, shifted from right to left field yesterday, and promptly reached into the A's bull pen to rob Mickey Mantle of a home run in the first frame. Even the New York fans were loud in their applause for the popular Valo. Seventeen players were on hand for the Pocono A. C. practice session at Giffels field last Saturday. Several outstanding High school stars will join the club following the scholastic diamond campaign.

Elwood Young, "Doc" Helman, Warren "Mag" Loney, Bill Crooks, Roe Bush and Harry Albert were among the area's top diamond fans at yesterday's baseball game between Stroudsburg and Pen Argyl, at Giffels field. Dale Melms, youthful right handed chucker with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1949, apparently has won a place on the Wilkes-Barre, Eastern league, mound staff for the coming season, despite being bothered with a sore arm during the pre-season grind. Melms has had arm trouble since the fading days of the 1949 season.

Andy Weingartner, recently awarded a scholarship to Williams College, was a member of the basketball and football teams at Stroudsburg High. Andy was one of the best defensive backs on the grid machine last fall, as Weingartner leveled the opposition with more than one bone jarring tackle during the course of the season. Brother Karl is a three letterman at the same school, playing football, basketball and baseball. Friday's meeting at the Monroe County YMCA should be a shot in the arm to Little League baseball in Stroudsburg.

East Stroudsburg Battles Wilson To Deadlock

Steele, Stull Take Part In Pitching Duel

Wilson Borough — East Stroudsburg and Wilson Borough High schools battled to a 1-1 deadlock here yesterday in a Lehigh-Northampton league opener halted by darkness after seven full innings of action. Ray Steele and Frank Stull hooked up in a terrific pitching duel which would apparently have gone on indefinately, if darkness hadn't engulfed the two clubs.

Steele allowed only four hits, while Stull gave up half as many, as the two right handers hurled with heart and head from the opening round through, the seventh.

Wilson took advantage of Steele's shaky start to tally in the second round, when Miller walked with the bases loaded to force in Vogel with the home team's only score. However, beginning with the third inning, the Bushkill righthander was the master the remainder of the distance.

Tieing Run

The Cavaliers knotted the count in the sixth, when Steele walked, then raced to third on a double to right center by Harold Litts. John "Juice" Arnst was sent up to the plate to hit for Gerard Rogers and promptly singled past third base to send Steele home with the tieing marker. Marlin "Ducky" Martz went down on strikes to end the rally that started after the first two batters had been retired.

Steele and Stull also locked in a battle of strikeouts, the former retiring 14 in that manner and the Wilson hurler being credited with 16 K's in the scorebook. Control was good as Stull walked only four and Steele six.

Big Seventh Inning Gives Senators Verdict Over Bosox

Boston, (AP)—The Washington Senators showed little respect for the highly esteemed Red Sox yesterday, rapping the Boston American leaguers 7-5 behind the six-hit pitching of left handed Bob Kuzava.

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators batted, won the game for the Washington club which lost only one of its five games.

Good Start

Clyde Vollmer's two run homer, a lusty line drive high into the left field screen in the second inning, got the Sox off to a 2-0 lead to the cheers of a ladies day crowd of 8,334, of whom 6,188 paid.

Boston's other three runs also came on homers. Bob Doerr hit his first of the year in the seventh with a mate aboard and Ted Williams lashed his third of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Beshore Drops Decision

London (AP)—Don Cockell, British and European light heavyweight champion, pounded out a one-sided decision victory over Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., last night in a non-title ten rounder before a capacity crowd of 10,100 in Harringay Arena. Beshore outweighed the Londoner, 185 to 181.

Blond Freddie first lost $420 in the afternoon for weighing three pounds over an agreed 182 and then he took a good shellacking from the 22-year-old Englishman in the evening.

Brooklyn's Streak Of Five Straight Halted By Braves

Roe clung to a one-run lead when he was forced to retire after seven innings. Erskine simply didn't have it. He walked Earl Torgeson and Bob Elliott before Gordon slammed his 350-foot homer into the left field seats in the eighth.

Two More

The Braves salted down the decision with two more runs in the ninth on Elliott's single with the bases loaded off Dan Bankhead.

With a strong wind blowing toward the left field stands, it was a battle of home runs for the 8,449 chilled customers. Max Surkont survived homers by Carl Furillo and "Duke" Snider to go the route with a ten-hitter.

Furillo, hero of Monday's 16-inning victory over the Braves, started the Brooks off with a first-inning homer after Gene Hermanski doubled.

Musial Leads Cardinals To Nod Over Reds

St. Louis (AP)—Stan Musial broke out of his batting slump as the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Cincinnati Reds 3-1 yesterday behind the effective pitching of southpaw Max Lanier.

Musial entered the game with a batting average of .154 and left it with an average of .313.

He smacked three singles and drew a walk in his four trips. Until yesterday, he had only two hits to show for 13 times at bat.

Final Run

After the Reds pulled to within one run of the Cardinals in the seventh, the Cardinals came right back to score their final run. Musial singled for his third hit, advanced on a single by Steve Bilko and a sacrifice and scored on Don Richmond's fly.

Singles by Harry "Peanuts" Lowry and Enos Slaughter produced a Cardinal run in the first. Lowry collided with umpire Art Gore while crossing home and, although both took a spill, neither was hurt.

C. E. Metzgar Beats Down Grass Fire

Analomink — Claude E. Metzgar, Monroe county's prothonotary and clerk of courts, yesterday turned fireman and singlehandedly beat down a grass fire which spread into a quarter of an acre of woodland near the home of his son, Mitchell Metzgar.

The clerk of courts was still at home shortly before 9 a.m. when the blaze was discovered by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mitchell Metzgar.

She turned in the alarm which brought the Analomink fire company to the scene, but, in the meantime, the elder Metzgar ran across the road from his home and succeeded in checking the fire before the firemen arrived.

Damage to the woodlot was said to be very slight due to recent rains which had soaked the under portion of the forest floor.

Gen. Ridgway Warns Biggest Communist Blow Still To Come

Manufacturers To Reprice Many Goods

Washington (AP) — In a far-reaching order which officials said would bring many price rollbacks for consumers, the government last night directed 75,000 manufacturers to reprice a vast range of products.

Price Director Michael DiSalle acknowledged there would be some price increases too, although he said the "net" effect would be a reduction in the general level of manufacturers' prices.

Estimating that the 75,000 manufacturers do about $70,000,000,000 of business yearly, he called the new regulation a major step toward restoring "equitable industrial prices." It covers products ranging from refrigerators and television sets to breakfast cereals and soup mixes.

DiSalle told a news conference the regulation will:

One—Roll back the prices of companies which "unjustifiably" raised their prices and profit margins after the outbreak of the Korean war; and

Two—Provide relief to manufacturers who were caught by the general freeze January 26 with ceiling prices in many cases below actual production costs.

"This regulation, we felt, was urgently needed," DiSalle said. "Many companies increased their prices beyond the point at which increased labor and material costs could justify. These prices should and will be rolled back."

The new regulation replaces the general price freeze under which the manufacturers have been operating. Generally speaking, it is designed to base prices on pre-Korean war figures, plus increases since that time in factory wages and materials costs.

In another action yesterday the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) extended for another 30 days—until May 30— the time for 276,000 retail stores to file pricing charts with OPS and put new margin-type ceiling prices into effect.

This marks the second extension. The original order issued February 27 set March 29 at the deadline for putting new prices into effect at retail. Last month the OPS gave the retailers until April 30 to file pricing charts and begin using new prices. Now they have until May 30.

The new manufacturers' pricing order provides that no individual company may increase prices above present ceilings without first notifying OPS 15 days in advance that it intends to do so. DiSalle said requests for increases will be reviewed closely.

Manufacturers getting relief under the regulation, DiSalle said, will be those who "held back on price increases" last December while cooperating with the government's voluntary price stabilization program. Reductions in manufacturer's prices, DiSalle said, eventually will be reflected in prices to consumers. Manufacturers have until May 28 to compute their new ceilings. Then it would take more time for lower-priced goods to reach shelves of retail stores.

Buying Spree Ended But New Threat Noted

Washington (AP) — The big consumer buying spree of early 1951 halted in March, the Commerce department reported yesterday.

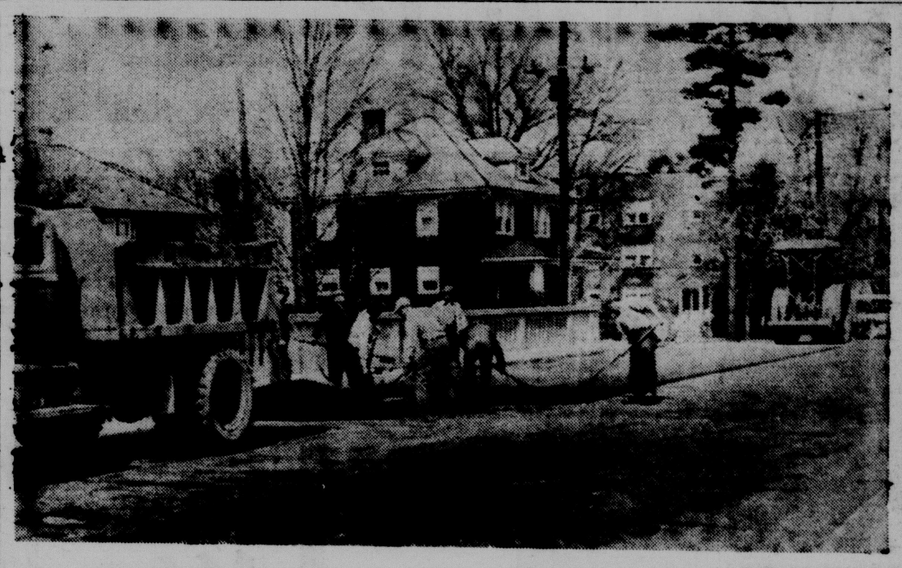

But the department warned that this "moderation of the inflationary movement" was offset by a rising threat of inflation from another quarter—business firms' plans to invest record sums in new plant and equipment this year.

The threat of a business spending spree was pictured by the agency as making further government controls or other counter-inflationary action necessary, although some makers of autos and other consumer goods are now cutting output and laying off workers.

U. S. Capitol May Be Blown To Bits--McMahon; Top Brass Favored Use Of Chinese--Whitney

Washington, (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn) declared yesterday that the U. S. Capitol may be "blown to smithereens next week" by atomic bombs if this country follows the wrong policy in Asia.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee, spoke up for the administration's policy of limiting the Korean war if possible and against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals for broader action against the Chinese Communists.

This new defense of President Truman's policies came after announcement was made that the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, and the foreign policy issues it raised, will begin May 3, a week from Thursday.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services committee said he prefers to have MacArthur testify at a closed session. But he added that there will be a public hearing "if the general expresses a desire" for one

Senate leaders of both parties urged public hearings "as far as possible."

One of the great questions to be explored is what to do about the Chinese Nationalist troops now on the island of Formosa.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett said yesterday that 400 to 500 more men may be assigned to the U. S. military mission to Formosa. They would be in addition to the 48 officers and 68 men whose departure was announced last week.

Lovett told a news conference the purpose of the mission is to train, equip and advise the Chinese Nationalist forces, estimated by MacArthur to number 600,000.

Reporters asked if the Nationalists might get equipment and training for an invasion of the Chinese mainland. Lovett wouldn't comment on this or any other questions involving the Truman-MacArthur controversy.

New York, (AP)—An aide said yesterday Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to throw Chinese Nationalists into battle was shared by top Army, Navy and Air commanders in Korea.

The spokesman said Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Far Eastern commander, went directly to the Pentagon with such a proposal—apparently soon after he got his first look at the situation in Korea.

"As far as I know, there has been no shift in the opinion of any military leader on the scene," added Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, personal adviser to MacArthur.

"There has not been the slightest deviation from the viewpoint General MacArthur expressed."

MacArthur was dismissed by President Truman for his differing views on American foreign policy in the Far East—including his belief that Chinese troops on Formosa should be sent into battle.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East, including Ridgway, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, and Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy of the Navy, also favored the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops against Chinese Reds on the mainland.

In Washington, presidential press secretary Joseph Short declined comment on Whitney's statements. There was no immediate reaction from the Pentagon, either.

Whitney said Ridgway analyzed the situation after he first went to Korea and then "sent a very strong message to the Pentagon through General MacArthur advocating use of those troops to strengthen our military operations."

MacArthur estimates about 600,000 Nationalist troops are available on Formosa.

Major Dikes Hold Back Flood Crest

By The Associated Press

The crest of the surging Mississippi hit Iowa river cities yesterday, but all major dikes held and the danger of extensive new damage eased in that area.

The only dike break reported was at Spring Lake, Ill. An old levee crumbled, flooding 3,000 acres of government - owned recreation land below Savanna.

However, the worst of the flood won't reach threatened downstream Illinois, Iowa and Missouri cities until later in the week.

Meanwhile, a serious timber fire raged in parched Oregon and a dozen small fires broke out in the dry Pacific northwest. The entire Pacific northwest, dried by nearly a month of drought, has become a fire hazard.

The Mississippi flood already has made 7,400 persons homeless in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. The Red Cross estimated another 24,000 persons are threatened with evacuation.

The most critical spot, Sabula, an Iowa community of 800 persons, apparently was winning the battle of the Mississippi. Sixty per cent of the town is below the level of the river—being held back by two mile-long levees to the north and south.

A snowstorm swept Wyoming, dumping five inches of snow at Lander and three inches at Casper.

Attlee Replaces Labor Bolters

London (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee's party chiefs struck a bargain with leftwing bolters yesterday in a bid to keep the Labor government in power a while longer.

At the same time, Attlee hastily plugged the gaps in his Cabinet left by the resignations of Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan and Board of Trade President Harold Wilson, who objected to a $4,172,000,000 arms budget that nibbled away same state welfare benefits.

Wallgren Says He Will Resign

Washington, (AP) — Chairman Mon Wallgren of the Federal Power commission said yesterday he will resign "sometime this summer."

Asked whether he is going to throw his hat into the political ring in Washington State, Wallgren said he is "not sure the people want me."

He added that there is a race for governor and one for senator coming up in that state, and said "I might go out and look the situation over."

Wallgren is a former governor of Washington.

As an example, No. 6 eastbound passenger train, the Phoebe Snow, now leaves here at 4:35 p. m. The new summer timetable will show the train leaving at 3:35 p. m., EST, but actually it will be 4:35 p. m. DST.

The Martz Coach Co. will run on daylight saving time affective Sunday.

The Greyhound Lines will be issuing a "revised schedule" which will be effective Sunday, April 29.

O'Dwyer Is Criticized

New York, (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) suggests that William O'Dwyer "search his conscience as to whether he thinks he is doing his country a service" by continuing as ambassador to Mexico.

The chairman of the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating committee said however, he couldn't predict whether O'Dwyer would remain in the "critical post of ambassador to an important neighboring country."

Reviewing the committee's findings in New York hearings, the Senator wrote in the Saturday Evening Post of what he termed the former mayor's "truculent defense of his political and official conduct."

"To me," he said, "the position of Mr. O'Dwyer was particularly lamentable — a melancholy essay on political morality. It was not inspiring to see this man, who, at the moment he was testifying, occupied the honored position of United States ambassador to Mexico, seek to defend his own conduct by repeatedly shifting responsibilities to other officials."

However, the senator added, "I shall not prejudice" any possible perjury action against O'Dwyer or other witnesses heard in New York "by prejudging the various issues."

In Mexico City, O'Dwyer indicated he had read Kefauver's remarks concerning him but asserted: "I don't intend to say anything."

97 Die When Fire Flashes Through Train

Yokohama, Wednesday (AP)—Fire caused by a dangling live wire roared through a crowded interurban train yesterday, killing 97 persons, including three American soldiers.

The Army reduced the toll of known American dead after it had been announced earlier that seven Americans had perished.

The Army said its investigation failed to show that four other foreigners who died were U. S. soldiers.

Fifty-nine other persons were injured, some seriously. Names of the soldiers were withheld temporarily.

A Japanese railway official said a dangling power line touched the trolley of the electric train as it pulled into a station here.

Flames flashed through the old wooden coach. The electrically-operated doors would not work. The windows were small ones, so designed in wartime to save on glass. Only the smallest person could squeeze through.

As the flames roared, passengers screamed in terror.

It was more than an hour after firemen checked the flames before anyone could get into the smouldering ruins. Then they removed 97 charred bodies. Forty of the victims were women and eight were children.

Tatsuo Shiraki, chief of the Tokyo Railway bureau, said wire repairmen had been at work at the station. They had put up red warning flags. Earlier trains had passed the point safely.

There were five coaches on the death train. There was no special half-coach for occupation personnel such as there are on larger trains.

The line runs from north of Tokyo to the southern outskirts of Yokohama.

Senate Votes New Life For Crime Probe

Washington (AP) — The Senate's crime investigation goes on at least until next September 1 and perhaps longer but with a new chairman, Senator O'Conor (D-Md).

And Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tie-ups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late yesterday in a compromise promoted by the Senate Democratic Policy committee. It was swiftly approved by the Senate itself, without objection.

The Republican members of the special investigating group, Senators Wiley (Wis) and Tobey (NH) had wanted an extension to next January 15, with $150,000 in new money to work with.

They settled, however, for four more months after the presently scheduled terminal date of April 30, plus a chance to keep the operation going under the management of the regular Commerce committee of the Senate. Nobody said whether there will be any more televised hearings such as climaxed the Kefauver group's work last month.

The resolution also provides the crime committee with another $100,000 of expense money. It already has had $265,000.

Rita's Attorney Hints Of Divorce

New York (AP)—A lawyer yesterday provided the first official inkling that the storybook romance of the Prince and the Princess—Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth—is headed for a non-fairy-tale crack-up.

The glamorous actress' attorney, Barley Crum, was asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from the Moslem prince. Said he: "No decision has been reached yet."

The significance of this statement was in the fact that it was the first time anyone able to speak for the actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

When Rita returned here from Europe on April 2, she was asked about the divorce reports and replied:

"There is no truth in that."

Later she notified her Hollywood studio she was available for movie roles. This set off new talk of a rift.

U. S. Eighth Army Braces After Red Breakthrough

Tokyo, Wednesday (AP) — Reinforced Allied troops today dug in and slowed the big Chinese Red breakthrough force in central Korea.

The Allied supreme commander warned, however, that the biggest Communist blow was still to come.

Fresh United Nations infantrymen helped hold a new line four miles north of the lateral Chunchon-Seoul road, the U.S. Eighth Army reported.

The first objective of the four-day old Red counter-offensive by upwards of half a million men apparently was to cut that road in central Korea and then swing in behind Allied forces to the west.

Three Chinese Army corps—105,000 at full strength—had punched a big hole in the mountainous middle of Korea, then plunged south across the 38th parallel as much as 10 miles.

Allied defenders of the Chunchon-Seoul highway attempted a stand before the breakthrough force at a point seven miles south of 38.

The Allied top commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, took a look on a flying visit to the front and then said the Red drive has not "attained its maximum strength."

The general said the outcome "may well prove decisive" but he expressed confidence the hard-pressed Eighth Army would meet the test.

In central Korea, Allied forces gave up Hwachon reservoir.

A dispatch from Eighth Army field headquarters said Allied withdrawals east and west of the reservoir left defenders there in a dangerously exposed salient.

Withdrawing troops also yielded Hwachon town near the west end of the reservoir.

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U. N. line.

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the Red offensive opened the Communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

Regardless of the cost, the Reds breached the Imjin river defense line 30 miles northwest of Seoul.

They swarmed through a hole left by faltering South Korean troops south of Kumhwa on the central front and menaced the Allied base at Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of central Korea in a flanking movement.

Allied censors in the field deleted all references to distances in the Reds' third invasion of South Korea.

However there was some cautious optimism. One heavily-censored dispatch from the western front said United Nations troops who were hit by a terrific opening punch now were "standing firm against slightly lessened Chinese pressure."

On the blazing central front correspondent Jim Becker reported the Reds were entrenching on ridge positions south of the 38th parallel and northwest of Chunchon, seven miles below the old political boundary.

However, Becker was able to report that swift riding Chinese cavalrymen and plodding Red infantry who ripped a sagging hole in the central front line south of Kumhwa were threatening Allied forces.

Many Residents Of Seoul Abandoning City For Third Time In Less Than Year

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, (AP)—Many residents of Seoul today were abandoning the old Korean capital for the third time in less than a year.

Civilians began the trek south as Chinese and North Korean Reds crossed the 38th parallel in a four-day-old counter-offensive. Latest reports, however, still put the nearest enemy forces more than 20 miles from Seoul.

When Allied forces re-entered Seoul last Feb. 10, United Nations officers warned residents not to return but many ignored the warning and went back to rubbled homes.

The residents fled for the first time in late June, 1950, at the outset of the war as North Koreans invaded South Korea. The second time was at the close of 1950 just ahead of the Chinese New Year's eve drive.

U. N. Assembly Called Upon To Make Major Military Decisions In Korean War

United Nations, N. Y., (AP)—The American Association for the United Nations proposed yesterday that the United Nations Assembly take over responsibility for major military decisions in the Korean war. This would mean Washington would be relieved as U. N. agent directing the unified command.

The 60-nation assembly, which includes Russia and the Communist Soviet bloc, would be called upon for major decisions in the battle against Communist aggression.

The association is a non-profit organization with 75 chapters in the United States. It is not connected with the United Nations but it seeks to promote understanding of the aims of the U. N.

In a letter to American Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin, the associations executive committee said General MacArthur in his speech to Congress lost sight of the necessity that any decision involving extension of the war beyond Korea must be taken under the responsibility and by the joint judgment of the United Nations. It said Americans must recognize that military strategy in Korea is not solely an American strategy.

The committee making this finding is headed by William Emerson of Boston and includes Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state.

The association called on the U. N. to make a vigorous, immediate and imaginative effort to secure a cease-fire and conferences to restore peace. If this appeal failed, it said the U. N. should go ahead with measures to attain its objectives in Korea. These objectives are a unified, independent Korea.

1,500 Pupils Fail To See Rovinsky

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—More than 1,500 curious school students crowded the Lehigh Valley railroad station yesterday to catch a glimpse of Charles E. Rovinsky being returned from California to face charges of killing his wife, father-in-law and brother-in-law.

The school children failed to see Rovinsky. Three authorities bringing him back took him from the train nine miles north of here, at Pittston.

FSA Suggests Formation Of Health Units

Washington, (AP) — The Federal Security agency suggested yesterday the formation of 47 local public health units in Pennsylvania to cover the State's 67 counties.

To staff these units, the agency recommended a minimum of 327 physicians and 1,996 nurses.

The pattern was suggested in a publication the FSA said is designed to show how regional planning would enable general hospitals and local health departments to work together for better health in every community.

Announcing the publication, Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing said it is intended as a guide rather than a blueprint.

However, he said, the study can "enable health officers, hospital planners, and state and local administrators to visualize how a coordinated pattern of hospitals and health departments could fit their own needs and make possible a superior type of health protection for citizens of their communities."

In mapping out health unit areas, the agency said they are each designed to serve a population of no less than 35,000 and are drawn to fit the pattern of existing or proposed hospitals and health centers.

Ewing has suggested a pattern of units for all counties of the State. The suggested unit for Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties is:

One physician and thirteen nurses.

Brehm Denies Charge

Washington (AP) — Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) swore yesterday he never received any money from Mrs. Clara Soliday, a former employe. Brehm conceded, however, that Mrs. Soliday, without his knowledge, contributed a total of $600 toward his campaign funds.

PSES Reports Serious Shortage Of Clerical Workers Here

Pinch Noted By Industry, Businesses

A serious shortage of all types of clerical workers in local industry and business operations was announced yesterday by officials of local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office.

Recruitment of all types of skilled and unskilled hotel workers to meet the ever-increasing requests for that type of labor in the Pocono Mountains resort region was also reported by agency officials.

Many of the clerical job openings are attractive both from the standpoint of working conditions and remuneration, officials said.

PSES authorities noted that for the past several years persons trained for clerical positions have accepted positions on the assembly line, leaving an acute shortage in the clerical labor market.

As a result, clerical help have come into their own in recent months. Time and one-half time for overtime, excellent working conditions and minimum rates of $30 a week with advancement incentives are now the basic pattern, PSES officials said. Experienced stenographers and secretaries range from $35 to $50 a week. Several openings in local offices are above the $50 figure with attractive vacation and sick leave offers, PSES officials disclosed.

A deluge of requests has already been recorded for hotel and restaurant workers in this region. Last year over 5,000 were placed and even more are expected to be sought this year.

Major requests are for waitresses, waiters, kitchen help, chambermaids, bell boys. Applicants for these posts or clerical workers are asked to apply at East Stroudsburg PSES office.

Gordon Pollock, 1st Bn. CO. Award is made for best mess hall in the regiment.

Captain Edinger's Company Wins Award At Breckinridge

Capt. Frank A. Edinger, son of Mrs. Freda Edinger, of Delaware Water Gap, commanding officer of Company A, 53rd Regiment, 101st Airborne Infantry, Camp Breckinridge, Ky., was honored recently when his company received the "best mess" award for the regiment. This award is presented monthly to the company having the best-run mess, best food, least deficiencies and in general the highest standards of efficiency.

Col. Elbert T. Mackey, regimental commander who made the presentation to Captain Edinger and his mess steward, said, "It is an essential part of the Army training program that the personnel of this unit be given the proper food. Only by constant supervision, as shown by Captain Edinger, can this food be prepared in a nutritious and attractive manner. I wish to congratulate you Captain for your excellent mess and the high state of morale of the troops under you, which is due in a large part to the excellent mess you have provided."

During World War Two, Captain Edinger served with the 34th Division in Italy and also served in the Pacific theater. During his 10 years of service he has served overseas for 26 months.

Included in his awards and decorations are the Presidential Unit Citation, Purple Heart, Combat Infantry badge, European, Pacific and American Theater ribbons Victory ribbon, and the Philippine Liberation ribbon. He has a total of four battle stars for campaigns in the European and Pacific theaters.

Court Receives Petition In Wink Appeal

A petition for a supersedeas in the case of Robert W. Wink, Weissport, Pa., seeking his release from Eastern penitentiary on bail pending disposition of an appeal in his case to Superior court, was presented to Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president of Superior Court here yesterday afternoon.

Wink was convicted and sentenced in Carbon county on charges of statutory rape and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Judge Rhodes yesterday received the petition and heard brief arguments in the supersedeas action. Briefs were filed, together with records of the case, for later disposition on the petition.

Attorney Michael Von Moschzisker, Philadelphia, whose father once was chief justice of Pennsylvania's Supreme court, represented Wink.

1949 Burglary Count Pressed

Five men, one of them from Stroudsburg, were brought here from Northampton county prison yesterday for arraignment on a charge of burglarizing the Max Blum junk yard on Route 209, Stroud township, on Sept. 14, 1949.

The group included Richard S. Capone, 23, of 80 Second St.; Robert (Bill) Allen, 23, of Phillipsburg, N. J.; Michael Lucykanich, 30, Bethlehem RD; George Calvin Shotwell, 30, and Harold Joseph Hildebrand, 24, both of Belvidere, N. J., RD.

All five waived hearing on the junk yard burglary charge before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, and were returned under guard to Northampton prison at Easton where they are presently serving varied terms on Northampton county larceny and burglary convictions.

Prior to their arrests on charges preferred by Northampton county authorities, the five-member gang was implicated in a series of service station and roadstand robberies which extended chainlike from Pike county into Monroe and Northampton and then into New Jersey.

District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen said that Allen's approaching eligibility for parole from a one to two-year sentence in Northampton county prompted yesterday's action here.

He explained that now that the five have been arraigned here for the junk yard burglary, they will be committed to jail here upon their release from confinement at Easton.

Total of 19 storage batteries, an auto radio and an auto heater were taken from the junk yard and later resold to another dealer in Phillipsburg, N. J. The goods were valued at $150.

The gang escaped capture until two of them were involved in an auto accident with Shotwell's car in Easton on Jan. 27, 1950. At that time police examining the car found a revolver which had been stolen from a burglarized diner on Alternate Route 22, Northampton county.

Under questioning prior to their convictions in Northampton county, the gang also admitted burglarizing two roadstands at Delaware Water Gap on Nov. 9, 1949. Investigation of these offenses was made by Chief Fred Decker, of Delaware Water Gap.

Shotwell and Hildebrand were committed to Monroe county jail here in the fall of 1949 on charges of shooting deer out of season with an automatic rifle. They paid heavy fines at that time.

The five were moved here yesterday under a guard which included Warden Erwin C. Gackenbuch and Guard Russell Kickline, of Northampton county prison, and Pfcs. Alex G. Kearn and James R. Reilly, of Stroudsburg State police.

Dr. J. L. Rumsey will be out of town from April 24-28 inclusive.—Adv.

J. Edwin Gregory Honored At Rites

Brodheadsville — Friends, relatives and many of the former students of the late J. Edwin Gregory, of Gilbert, filled the William Kresge funeral home here yesterday when last rites were conducted for the deceased.

Amos Johnson, William Kreimoyer, and Henry Kresge, representing the Kresgeville camp of the Patriotic Order of Sons of America, and Edward Meisner, Fred Wagner and Walter Anglemyer, representing the Effort Odd Fellows lodge, were the pallbearers.

Rev. Alton Albright, pastor of the Gilbert Reformed congregation, officiated.

Harry Porter Arraigned On Theft Charge

Harry Porter, 22, of 60 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, was formally charged with burglarizing the Gulf service station at S. Courtland and Washington Sts. in East Stroudsburg, late yesterday before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser.

Porter, apprehended last Saturday in Rockville, Md., was returned to Monroe county late Monday night by Officer Edward M. Harloe, of East Stroudsburg police, and Pfc. Alex G. Kearn, of Stroudsburg State police.

When arraigned yesterday before Justice Bonser, Porter was committeed to Monroe county jail for an appearance in county court during the May term.

The prisoner waived extradition to Pennsylvania when taken before Justice of the Peace, J. Kelly Magee, of Rockville, by Montgomery county, Md., Detective Cpl. Charles Pearson on Monday.

The Maryland justice then released him into custody of Harloe and Kearn for return to Pennsylvania.

Porter, Charles Sansenbach, who was apprehended by East Stroudsburg police on April 15 after a car theft incident, and a juvenile are all implicated in the east borough service station burglarly, according to the office of District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen.

The theft occurred late at night on March 31 when one of the three allegedly broke a window and reached into a washroom towel container where $118.29 in night business proceeds had been secreted.

The three are alleged to have then driven to Stroudsburg and north on Route 611 where the money was divided before they returned to the boroughs to eat at a diner.

Sansenbach and the juvenile were speedily apprehended after the auto larceny, but Porter, meantime, had left for Washington D. C., necessitating cooperation of Washington and Maryland police in his arrest at Rockville.

Driver Held In Hit-Run Crash Here

Driver of a New Jersey hit-run car which damaged a parked machine owned by Jesse L. Albert, of Delaware Water Gap, late Saturday night on Lower Main St., has been apprehended.

Officer Jack Tretheway, investigating for Stroudsburg borough police, disclosed that Ervin V. Litz, 29, of Hainesburg RD 1, was brought here last night to make restitution for damages through cooperation of Sgt. Norman J. Nelson and New Jersey State police at the Blairstown substation.

After the appearance here, Litz was released under his own recognizance.

The National Geographic Society says it is estimated three to four million persons have been killed by earthquakes since 600 A. D.

Hansen Seeks Reelection To County Office

Detleff A. Hansen, incumbent Monroe county district attorney, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for a second term in the July 24 primary elections.

Formerly associated in law practice with the late Ira A. LaBar, he is now a member of the law firm of DePue and Hansen. His partner, Atty. C. Edward DePue, is also active in local and county civic organizations.

During the past several years, Mr. Hansen has served as solicitor for the borough of Delaware Water Gap, and he was recently reappointed to that office for another four-year term.

Active in the work of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, he is secretary of the board of church trustees, chairman of the finance committee, and is also active in the various church groups.

In addition, he is president of the Lehigh Valley Laymen's association, retiring president of the Stroudsburg Dutch Treat club, a member of Kiwanis and numerous other professional and fraternal organizations throughout the county.

A veteran of World War Two, he entered the U. S. Navy as an apprentice seaman in August 1943 and attained commissioned rank before his release to inactive duty in January 1946. He now holds the rank of lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Married to the former Lorene G. Ace, of Stroudsburg, he and Mrs. Hansen have two sons. Their home is at 552 Scott St., Stroudsburg.

FIREBALL POWERED

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflow Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Order From Chaos

In an effort to reduce civil defense plans in Pennsylvania to their simplest terms, Executive Director Richard A. Gerstell is developing a model organization blueprint to be recommended to local communities for use in case of attack.

Planning carefully in order to eliminate the chaotic situation in which civil defense has found itself, Gerstell has emphasized again and again that funds set aside for the Pennsylvania Civil Defense Council will not be dissipated in creation of a wasteful bureaucracy.

Sensibly he is cautioning local communities to delay buying air raid warning signal equipment until final federal approval is given a standard type of signal. Otherwise, he says, communities would lose out on the 50 per cent reimbursement for warning devices.

These are the kind of words one would expect to hear from a man who has such a down-to-earth approach to atomic disaster possibilities. He does not approach the problem with the hysterical attitude characteristic of too many involved in civil defense activities.

Gerstell assures that statewide training of key personnel and operation of aircraft observation and warning systems will be the first order of business of the civil defense council. All in all, the manner in which he is going about his work should have a calming effect.

Mall for Shrine

Pennsylvanians, proud of their state's place in American history, are smiling broadly at the increased attention now being accorded Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Demolition of the first of 32 buildings to be razed for a mall at the birthplace of the nation's independence will get under way within 10 days. The work is to be completed within a year.

Management of Independence Hall was taken over by the federal government early this year. Philadelphia did a good job in the care it gave earlier but after all Independence Hall is a national shrine and should be a matter of federal concern. It is no great credit that so many major shrines have fallen into disrepair and in some cases become sites of incompatible commercial enterprises. The care now being given Independence Hall properly should be extended.

Colleges Join Up

Pennsylvania colleges apparently are to have an increasingly important part in the nation's defense programs. Four more of them have been assigned Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps programs.

They are Allegheny in Meadville, Franklin and Marshall in Lancaster, Grove City in Grove City, and St. Joseph's in Philadelphia. They are on a list of 62 institutions just chosen and bring the total for the Air Force program to 187. Several other Pennsylvania colleges and universities were previously selected for ROTC training; others, among them Penn State and Gettysburg, have had such programs for years.

Pennsylvania colleges and universities gave notable service in World War II through their training programs. Thousands of Navy, Army and Air Force men were given important instruction on Keystone State campuses. The achievements were remarkable—and at the same time the government payments helped most of the colleges through trying financial situations, just as they probably will do in the lean days of intensified defense program.

But so far as the nation at large is concerned, the quality of training is the paramount consideration. Pennsylvania colleges may reasonably be expected to measure up as they have done in the past.

You're Telling Me

An Iroquois Indian tribe living in Canada claims it owns a fourth of the state of Vermont. Wonder if Vermonters could get the redskins to settle for just the maple syrup rights?

The Indians managed to get their claim before the Vermont legislature. When it comes to pow-wow they've got know how.

There's a heap smarter than the bewildered braves who swapped Manhattan island for a string of dime store beads and a fifth of you-know-what.

In the old days when Indians figured the paleface had finagled 'em out of their real estate they served eviction notice via the whizzing arrow and the whirling tomahawk.

Their attitude was simply hair-raising. If that term's too technical, consult Daniel Boone.

Those old-time Indians didn't know that the pen is always mightier than the sword. They had never seen either.

To mix a metaphor, the palefaces had the redskins' number, from A to Z (Apache to Zuni). Aside from some reservations, about all the U. S. Indian Braves have now are a couple of ball parks—in Cleveland and Boston.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A Dublin bishop was extolling moral courage to a class of young boys. "Twelve boys shared a dormitory in my youth," he said, "and I was the only one who steadfastly knelt down to say my prayers. Jibes never dissuaded me once. That was moral courage. Can any of my students cite another example?" One jumped up and said, "Yes. Twelve bishops shared a dormitory—and only one jumped into bed without saying his prayers!"

What Henry Mencken would call a typical female motorist came tootling merrily down the wrong side of a crowded thoroughfare and ran smack into Mr. Jordan's brand new convertible. While they were trying to untangle bumpers, the lady driver said grudgingly, "I'm afraid this was largely my fault." "Nonsense," said Mr. Jordan with a gallant bow. "I assure you the blame rests entirely with me. I saw you fully three blocks away and had ample time to dart down a side street."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—An autograph hunter once addressed S. Z. Sakall as "Mr. Greenstreet." Another time, in a store, a stranger gushed about how much she had enjoyed his performances. Sakall asked her, "Vat's my name?" She was stumped. Another shopper standing nearby commented, "He has no name—just a face."

Sakall likes to tell these stories on himself. He thinks they prove his anonymity bespite his 41 Hollywood movies in 11 years. But you know him—the rotund little Hungarian-born actor with the fat jowls, startled look, and eloquent hands. Usually he's the heroine's rich uncle, father, or benefactor in a musical.

"Always the same!" exclaimed Jani (pronounced yohnny and meaning Johnny), as intimates call him. "In Germany I make 106 pictures. Never I play a rich man, never the boss. Always the employee. Is not my part to be a boss—is not in my soul. In my soul is to be a little afraid."

Sakall has an unseen movie partner in his gracious little blonde wife of 31 years. Berzhy (Hungarian equivalent of Bessy) rises with him at 6 a.m. and personally scrambles his three eggs.

Mrs. Sakall memorizes her husband's entire scripts. As they drive to the studio, with Jani at the wheel, she feeds him the other players' lines and he rehearses. Thus, during "Lullaby of Broadway," she was alternately Gene Nelson, Doris Day, Billy DeWolfe and Florence Bates.

In their beautiful, Spanish-type Beverly Hills home, the Sakalls serve wonderful paprika chicken, dumplings, and strawberry shortcake. After brazenly accepting three helpings of each, I should know.

Sakall said he was born in Budapest 61 years ago, the son of a tombstone sculptor. From newspaper reporting he turned to play and movie writing and acting. He still writes—wants to act in his script about a tragi-comic little man who has two families at the same time.

The Sakalls send 20 or more parcels to European friends and strangers weekly. Berzhy handles part of this business, and Jani's fan mail, during her days in his dressing room. She has stayed off his sets ever since, in Germany, a director hollered "Shh!" at a visitor who spoke to her during a take.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Americanisms

I often wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "A Dictionary of Americanisms on Historical Principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not American, then beigel and lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is beigel and lox from City Hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson bridge.

Instead of lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it is actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office!

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "Hell!" and that took me back what seems to me to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act.

Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today; it's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for half a dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world streamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances wtih life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard work, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads:

"In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

It's an old trick.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — During World War II, due to the efficiency of U. S. Navy pilots and submarine crews, Japanese shipping was wiped from the face of the sea. This created a transportation vacuum which the Japanese, under Allied surrender terms, have not been able to fill.

The British will be more than pleased to take over the job full time, however, and since the end of the war Empire bottoms have been doing their best to replace the missing Jap merchant fleet. Of course, most of the trade carried by British ships has been with the Chinese communists. Now, however, the helpful British are ready to go all the way, by supplying the Japanese with enough ships to take care of that nation's needs as well.

The British propose to do this by banning Japanese merchant ships in the peace treaty which they are helping state department aide, John Foster Dulles, write at this time. In other words the British found the Japanese surrender ban on shipping such a good thing that they are now willing to extend the prohibition on into eternity. It's good business—for the British.

One other clever idea British diplomats have concocted, concerning Japan, is to ban textile manufacturing by the Japanese. This little proposal, along with the shipping ban, will be made part of the peace treaty, if the British have their way.

Even by trying hard it is doubtful if Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Socialist comrades could have found any quicker way to break the back of Japan's economy. For generations Japan has survived on textiles and shipping.

Of course, so long as Secretary of State Dean Acheson continues to take orders from No. 10 Downing Street in London, the British have every reason to believe their proposal will be accepted. All we taxpayers have to do is to keep on supporting Japan with large appropriations out of the public treasury, while the British skim off the gravy by handling all the trade.

In Germany recently, the Allied powers raised the ban on German ship building. This was a jarring wrench to British diplomacy, but the socialists managed to keep up their chins long enough to race to Japan and drop the two ideas in the hopper so they could cash in on that nation's economic plight.

Everything coming out of our State Department these days has a British label on it. The drawing room warriors in that racket won't make a move without telling Attlee. Nobody, it seems, ever considers Uncle Sam first, that's grubby business, apparently, and not quite cricket.

Just like Germany, we've had Japan around our neck ever since we licked them. It could go on forever, but shouldn't. In writing the peace treaty, Congress should instruct Dulles and the State Department that the Japanese economy should be restored—and fast. The quicker it's done the less it's going to cost you and me. Japan can't survive without a textile industry and a lot of merchant shipping. The British know this, but when you're greedy a few economic facts are no stumbling block.

We can't get tough with the Chinese because of the British; we can't get Japan back on its feet because of the British; Truman has to fire Gen. Douglas MacArthur because he disturbs the British.

It probably wasn't hard to do, but somebody really sold Acheson on the need to maintain British socialists in a manner they want to become accustomed to. Acheson, of course, while spinning around to keep from turning his back on Alger Hiss and his buddies, had no apparent trouble selling President Truman on the British first idea.

Maybe it would be shocking to the diplomats if somebody in this country told the British to keep their noses out of our business. And it is probably impossible, anyway, so long as we keep on messing around with the United Nations. This idea of collective security was spawned by U. N. characters, but it didn't take the British long to twist that idea round to where it is today.

Walter Winchell on Broadway

Winchell

Memos to the Editors

The Sunday papers quoted Gen. MacArthur. He said at the time of the Wake Island conference with the Comdr.-in-Chief (Oct. 15) no one in the U. S. Government had "the slightest idea" Red China would intervene in Korea . . . The President (in his Jackson Day dinner speech a week ago) declared he believed "on good authority" (meaning MacArthur) that Red China would not strike . . . How all, the White House—Field Headquarters — G2 —and Central Intelligence missed it, I have no idea . . . But on Sept. 17 (a full month before the President and MacArthur met at Wake Island) the whispers about the coming Red offensive were so loud along the Chinese waterfront from Port Arthur to Hong Kong—I heard them in New York. Two months before the Red Chinese came in—and one month before the Wake Island conference — I reported this: "Russia strategy now calls for a Winter campaign in Korea. Heavy Russian Winter equipment is rolling east on the Trans-Siberian rails. Soviet Headquarters ordered Korea held at any cost . . . 300,000 reserves are mobilizing north of Seoul, making a total of 675,000 red troops in the field" . . . If you readers listeners and W. Winchell knew it, why didn't the President and General MacArthur? . . . I have warned before and I do again, a good Intelligence Service is not only our First Line of Defense—it may be our last.

This is the inside of what's going on in the enemy's command . . . Mao is now second . . . Lin Shao Chi is first in the chain of Moscow command . . . Mao told Stalin he was broke; that he had been promised 300 million; that he got only 150 and had spent 600 million . . . Casualties tremendous . . . Crowding all hospitals as far north as Nunkiang and as far south as Canton . . . Mao told Stalin he'd have to quit if he didn't get help . . . Stalin agreed to rush jets and to throw in the Japanese Red-screened army—100,000 fantatics . . . He told Mao to plunge all on an all-out offensive—and that he wanted Red China's flag in Pusan by June 25, the first anniversary of the war . . . Mao told Stalin he didn't want to go into the war and would like to get out . . . And so he's second in command now.

Sometimes you have to wait a long time to see your news confirmed . . . Frinstance: Some months ago I reported the "mysterious" whereabouts of Noel Field, one-time U. S. Army liaison officer . . . I said he was a Communist suspect—and that he was in a Lubianka Prison (Moscow) dungeon . . . His kinfolk over here challenged it. Said it couldn't be true. What proof? . . . Mike McDermott, press chief at the Dep't of State, wrote a letter asking me where I got that information . . . I told him a Red chief in East Berlin "talked too much in his cups" . . . The government was apparently unconvinced . . . Last week-end the Associated Press teletyped its papers that Noel Field was reported in Lubianka Prison, Moscow.

American Airlines' Rex Smith (who already had it anyway) earned the undying love of the Washington correspondents corps last week. Twenty-three top newsboys were flown to San Francisco to meet MacArthur with instructions to stay right with him . . . But when he pulled out for Washington aboard the Bataan there was no way for them to follow . . . Rex brought out the newest and fastest passenger job (a DC-6B), not even in service yet . . . The scribes took off an hour after Mac's plane—passed it over Pittsburgh and beat him to Washington by 30 minutes . . . The same guys Mac left on the ramp (at San Francisco) were waiting for him at the Capital . . . The General, used to fast flying, still hasn't figured out howcum.

Another great question of Constitutional law is coming up . . . The Highest Court has ruled that not even Congress can subpena the secret documents of the Defense and State Dep'ts . . . But once the Government uses them —it waives its right to secrecy . . . In short, the moment the Administration makes public some of the MacArthur code messages, the General has the Constitutional right to demand all be published . . . Because anything less is Not The Truth—The Whole Truth—And Nothing But The Truth . . . As required by law.

There isn't much fun in the newspapers these days, but this colyum got real satisfaction out of the conviction last week of Edw. A. Rumely of the peculiar Committee for Constitutional Government . . . We have been yelling about this super-patriot for more than ten years . . . A convicted pro-German agent, later pardoned, this trouble-maker's propaganda, etc. (financed by many gullible Americans believing him to be a Commy-fighter) may have caused you parents many a heartache.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

Whether or not you like Pearl Buck's latest book -- "God's Men," -- there is one paragraph in it that we may well memorize in capital letters.

Clem Miller, the principal character, believes in the value of food as a maker and keeper of the peace.

If he were President, he proclaims, he would make bread and meat free to everybody, and if he had a surplus he would send it to the hungry all over the world rather than destroy it to keep prices up.

And here is my favorite paragraph:

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

There, in a few words, is the background of most of the trouble in the world.

Despite all the high-toned motives attributed to many of the wars in history, almost all of them were caused by lack of food and of all that food stands for.

Conquerors of old went to war to get for themselves and their people what they did not have. They needed more territory on which to grow the products of the soil.

They needed—or wanted—more luxuries, more of the things that others had.

It was not always hunger for bread and meat and clothes.

Often it was hunger for another kind of food—food for the ego.

To conquerors and dictators and autocrats, power and glory, too, are food.

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

Analyze that a bit, if you please.

Germany had been conquered. She was humiliated. She was poor. She was hungry.

Then Hitler came along.

He fed the people. He fed their stomachs and their pride. He fed their age-old hunger for glory and display.

After he filled their bellies and their minds he preached to them —and they followed him.

Stalin is feeding his people while he is preaching the wonderful dream-world of Communism to them. If and when the people of Russia begin to go hungry—that will be the end of Stalin and of his Communism.

"You can't preach to people until you've fed them."

Here in America we are not hungry for bread or meat.

But many of us are hungry for spiritual food.

Clem Miller's philosophy may well be a cue to all ministers of the gospel.

You can preach religion all you want

But to make your congregations follow you and stay with you, you must make the Bible and the word of God FOOD to satisfy their craving for divine guidance and help in their daily lives.

Words, dogma, ritual, oratory alone cannot nourish the hungry soul.

Only if you let bread and wine of Christ be not merely a symbol but food for every day can you expect to supply the nourishment which the soul needs as much as the body.

Let your preachments be food and you will give the people happiness and peace.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Der Fuehrer's Yacht — ("The Grille, 476-foot $4,000,000 yacht, once given to Adolf Hitler by the German people, has been towed to Delaware where it will be scrapped to make war supplies for the American defense effort." —News Item.)

There she squats, Der Fuehrer's yacht,
Her days of glory through;
The junkyard got her in the end
As it got Adolf, too;
Oh, once she played the glamor ship
To Hitler's finger-snap . . .
Now only one command she hears
"Bust this babe up for scrap!"

II

Four million bucks she cost to build;
Her health Der Fuehrer drunk
(On cruises most infrequent for
His sailing form was punk);
The Lord of All the Earth, he felt,
Proclaiming it with ease . . .
But Adolf wasn't quite the type
To lord it on the seas.

III

Still she was called the Hitler ship
And in the stark mad days
She was a regal, haughty gal
With autocratic ways;
Aboard her Nazis sang the tune
"Der world is in der bag!" . . .
But now she meets the drabbest death,
A doomed, unpretty hag.

IV

Once Nazi sea lords strode her decks
With plans to lick us all;
Her cabins echoed with their boasts
Of how the foes would fall;
"Der Fuehrer!" rang the endless toasts,
"Dose Yankees ve vill schlam!"
And now from her a suit of mail
Is made for Uncle Sam!

V

From Eva's cabin there shall come
Gun parts for some G. I. . . .
Steel beams from Adolf's suite shall make
Planes for our lads to fly . . .
From where the Nazis banquetted
Shell cases may emerge;
This bridge into a tank shall go
For some Korean surge!

VI

In freedom's cause each bolt shall serve
In war fought hot or cold;
Swastikas have no power now—
No Fuehrer bellows "Hold!" . . .
Far off "Ach, Gott!" a ghost exclaims,
"More bad news and more yet!
Look! Donnerwetter! Von more proof

Ye Gotham Bugle and Banner

Elbert Lamb, Formerly Of Borough, Dies

East Orange, N.J. — Elbert N. (Bert) Lamb, long a resident of Stroudsburg, died at the General hospital here yesterday after a three-weeks illness. He was 64 and a resident of 44 Hawthorne Ave., here.

He was the brother of Mrs. William N. Walton, 325 Colbert St., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Lamb was the former superintendent of elections in Essex county, N.J. Born here, he was a son of the late Henry A. and Clara A. Lamb. He married Miss Frances Back, Newark, in 1913, and made his residence in Stroudsburg.

At the time of his marriage Mr. Lamb was working at the Erie railroad car shops in Stroudsburg. He was employed there until just before the shops were abandoned. While a resident in Stroudsburg, Mr. Lamb was a member of the Monroe County Republican committee.

The Lambs moved to East Orange in 1918. Mr. Lamb was sergeant-at-arms of the 1933 New Jersey Legislature. That same year he was appointed chief deputy to Essex superintendent of elections, A. H. Rachlin. In 1934 he was elected to a five-year term by the Legislature.

He immediately instituted a series of economies in the office which resulted in a saving of $30,000 his first year in office. A strong advocate of voting machines, he also opposed moves in 1938 to deprive WPA workers and persons on relief from their right to vote. He did provoke a controversy over his ruling that a person could vote only in the election district in which he actually lived.

In recent years he was salesman for Flagstaff Food Co. Prior to that he operated Riverdale lodge.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and member of Corinthian Lodge F. & A.M. of Orange. He was organizer and president of the Morning club of Newark which once wielded considerable political influence.

His wife, a brother, Harry, East Orange, and his sister, Mrs. Walton, Stroudsburg, survive.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Oxley funeral home, 286 Roseville Ave., Newark, N.J. Interment in Restland Memorial park Friday morning.

COME EARLY AND AVOID THE RUSH at The Daily Record's Cooking School in the Sherman Theater. First school will open at 9:30 a.m. today. Expert demonstrators will conduct the school. Valuable gifts will be made each day. This is a typical "opening day" scene of one of The Daily Record's cooking schools.

Today will be fair, sunny and mild, he promised, and temperatures will continue to move upward into the low 70s.

Winds will be moderate and there may be some local showers near nightfall.

Thursday, clouds will begin drifting in as a low pressure area moving eastward out of the Mississippi valley draws nearer.

Value of Home Depends Upon Five Factors

There are five major factors that create or destroy value in residential property, according to Alfred A. Ring, associate professor of real estate at the University of Florida.

Dr. Ring lists these factors in an article, "What Makes Value," written for The Review, official publication of the Society of Residential Appraisers.

They are: Homogeneous, civic-minded and law-abiding neighbors; pleasing and well-blending architectural designs of homes in the surrounding community; convenient location to shopping areas, churches and schools; absence of noise, traffic, smoke and dust; and desirable and effective zoning, deed and building restrictions.

The term value, as used by real estate men, is best defined, Dr. Ring says, as "the highest price which a willing seller, not forced to sell, will accept from a willing buyer, not forced to buy, assuming that both parties act intelligently and are fully informed, and that sufficient time is had to consider the transaction with due care."

Appraisers too have their problems, it seems.

Where appraisers run into trouble, Dr. Ring writes, is not in determining the physical value of a home, for stone, wood and mortar can be evacuated generally with little difficulty.

It is in study economic information, in measuring the nature of depreciation and in forseeing future events that appraisers run into snags.

Package Plan Mortgage Is Now In Use

The "Packaged mortgage" in which equipment and appliances are included in the selling price of a new home, is widely appreciated by home buyers and is helping to keep the sale of houses at record levels, according to American Builder magazine.

Advantage of the packaged mortgage, American Builder explains, is that it enables the buyer to amortize the cost of equipment as well as the cost of the house itself over a long period of time. Less ready cash is needed.

A survey made by the trade magazine shows that 89 per cent of new houses have built-in kitchen cabinets, 35 per cent have gas or electric ranges, 28 per cent have gas or electric refrigerators, 18 per cent have automatic dishwashers, 20 per cent have garbage disposal units and 34 per cent have kitchen ventilating fans.

Builders participating in the survey said they include venetian blinds in 42 per cent of their new houses, window shades in 30 per cent, mail chutes in 27 per cent, door chimes in 61 per cent, clothes closet equipment in 23 per cent and hot water heaters in 92 per cent.

How To Stipple

Stippling is an effect produced by striking a painted surface while it is still wet with the ends of the bristles of a special type of brush called a "stippling brush". The result is a uniform pebbly surface. Roller stipplers are also used as time savers.

Chimneys Balk

The cause of a faulty chimney can often be traced to downdrafts caused by surrounding trees or tall buildings. It this is the case, a properly designed chimney top may be helpful in deflecting troublesome air currents.

Oiling Floors

If you use linseed oil to oil floors mix one part of turpentine with four parts of oil. It will penetrate more readily and dry more quickly.

THE BANVILLE is designed for a narrow lot. It has two bedrooms, living room and a combination kitchen-dining room. The front entrance leads into a vestibule with a coat closet; rear entry to basement, kitchen and bedroom hall, with a closet also provided.

Kitchen cabinets are on opposite walls with double compartment sink under window, stove and refrigerator on inside wall. Dining area, at end of kitchen, has double windows and is connected with living room.

Bedrooms have ample wall space for furniture. Wardrobe type closets have storage space overhead. Central hall opens freely to all rooms.

Plans call for a frame construction with siding exterior. Hip roof is planned to have asphalt shingles.

The dimensions are 26 feet by 36 feet. The floor area is 924 square feet and cubage is 18,480 cubic feet, including full basement.

Don't Dry Wet Wash In Home

Washing clothes in the kitchen, then hanging wet clothes all through the apartment, wrecks buildings, a public housing investigating committee has found.

"When laundry is done in the home, the daily washing is hung up to dry in every room of the unit," Fred R. Kretschmar of the Detroit Housing Commission reported after a maintenance conference with other public housing superintendents.

"There is no means of moisture removal, and the entire building is badly damaged in a short time," he said.

"Condensation rusts out steel sash or deteriorates wood sash, ruins the paint job and causes plaster to come off the walls eventually."

The investigators agreed that, if it could possibly be avoided, no laundering should be done in an apartment suite.

Choice locations for laundering, in a large housing development, were found to be in the order of preference:

Individual basement laundries, group laundry in the basement of each building or attached to the building at grade level, central laundry for all buildings in basement or attached to one building at grade level.

Buying Guide For Gadgets

When investing in "gadgets" for the home a good buying guide to follow is:

Fifst—Those that help save money; second—those that offer a safety or health measure; third—gadgets that are a convenience; last—the tricky ones that are of no great use but somehow are irresistible because of their sheer "gadgetiness."

Thermostats deserve a place well up in the money-saving group. Studies show that fuel costs increase 3.2 per cent for each degree house temperatures rise, unregulated, above the comfort level.

Headboard Beds Fit Small Home

You can have headboard beds in a one-room apartment by dividing your room, according to Paul MacAlister, nationally known authority on interior decorating.

It requires careful planning in a small space, but MacAlister has worked out an ingenious arrangement which makes two well balanced rooms out of one. He suggests inserting a low storage wall at right angles to the room wall to form a partition between the sleeping and living areas of the room.

To further separate the two sections of the room a row of plants could be placed on top of the storage wall, or a simple latticed framework can be built with vines trained over it. Such room dividers frequently have been made into decorative assets which give no hint of their utilitarian purpose, but would seem to be designed for effect alone.

The storage wall, then, serves as a background for the beds and head-board, and will provide an effective contrast to the headboard upholstery. The bedspreads, a slipper chair and the end wall can be done in color contrast to the living area to set it off as a "second room."

Natural Pine For Kitchens

Chimney Pots Now Used For Roof Designs

Chimney pots are always a picturesque feature of the design of a house. They may be of many forms—simple pots for Colonial dwellings, or products of English Gothic, Tudor or Georgian designs taken from old manor houses of England.

For the city house, suburban home or country estate, these pots are practical and appropriate. They add a final touch that gives the chimney a definitely finished appearance.

The chimney pot at its apex should not be less than two feet higher than the nearest peak roof and not less than three feet higher than the nearest flat roof. The flue of the pot should not be smaller than the chimney flue, although a larger flue is thoroughly practical. A round pot can be used with a rectangular flue or vice versa.

New Style Guide Takes Guesswork Out Of Decorating

Home decorating becomes an adventure in color, with all guesswork eliminated, if the homemaker consults the 1951 edition of the Sherwin-Williams Paint and Color Style Guide, according to John Muller, proprietor of the PAINT SERVICE CENTER, 517 Main St., Stroudsburg, Pa., where the Style Guide is on display for public reference.

"Just off the press, the 1951 Style Guide makes it a pleasure to modernize the home through the use of color," said Mr. Muller.

ADVENTURE IN COLOR

THESE HOMEMAKERS study the 1951 Paint and Color Style Guide leisurely at home.

The new volume may be viewed at THE PAINT SERVICE CENTER at 517 Main St., Stroudsburg, opp the Sherman Theatre, or arrangements may be made to borlow a copy, without charge, by calling 2942.—Adv.

It's Goodbye To France But Not Forever

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

New York — To return to one's native heath is always a thrill. Never has the United States looked so fine. But given another opportunity to earn our way, we would like to go to Spain. England, France and Italy are costly with their new American prices. After our recognition of Spain and resumption of trade, it too will raise its prices. Now one can have the best room in a Ritz hotel in Spain for $1.85 and the most luxurious dinner for $.80!

Ruth H. Ottaway

Farewell, Paris

Farewell, Paris, and your inevitable potato soup masquerading as "legumes" (vegetable) and with a water base. Where, or where, is your famous "soupe oignon"?

A glad goodbye to your telephone operators. Worst system in the world. "Ah-low" (hello), clicks and dense silence. After ten minutes a voice says in French or English, "I did not catch."

Tra-la-loo, you old French cabs, ready to collapse and with an eight-inch board inside of the door to hurdle.

And your black market. That is your great trouble, France. Official rate, 350 francs to the dollar. One chap gives you 365, the street crooks, 390, if you like, which you don't. After you have paid bills with American Express checks at the regular rate, you suddenly find that all shops give 12 per cent off, and one gave 12 and then lo! Even then they sell the checks at a profit on the black market.

Dear, Old France

A toast to you, dear, old France! We are glad that you all eat well whether you have anything else or not. Such steaks, such omelettes, cheeses, pastry, crepes, croissants!

We salute your gaiety, you women who always look chic. Even during the war, they made earrings of starched lace, and lacking money for hats, threw scarfs over their heads and started a world-wide fashion.

Amour, toujours amour is in your air. Your galantry, charming and meaningless, we adore. "The gods above us, our women seated, we on our knees," you Frenchmen say, but madame at the cash-box straightens you out.

Old, and yet young, and very beautiful, we salute you, Paris, and your celebration next summer of your 2000th anniversary.

"Boom '51"

We have given you American jazz of the finest. Hooray for what you have done with it! For your host clubs, your sardines in a box "hot-spot" where the Dixieland Jazz band makes the air blue.

For your recent international salon of jazz celebrating your 50th anniversary of American jazz in France attended by 5000 jazz artists.

For the trumpets of our Larry our Benny Goodmans which you make at Chateau-Thierry and Mantes, and for your export of 40,000,000 trumpets annually in addition to supplying France with one million.

Knock Three Times

Your ancient custom of many small knocks and then three, long and loud, before the curtain rises in your theaters intrigued us. Our turn now. Have we knocked three times? Pardon, messieurs et mesdames! There is so much of good that we can say about you.

France On Her Feet

You are on your feet, France, and ready to defend yourself. Communism is less popular. You are evolving a new electoral system which will give the people the desired opportunity to oust the Communists from the Government. Your inner strength of the ages is coming to the fore. You are versatile and vibrant, and also as keen as your President Auriol whose visit to the United States awakened a new confidence in you.

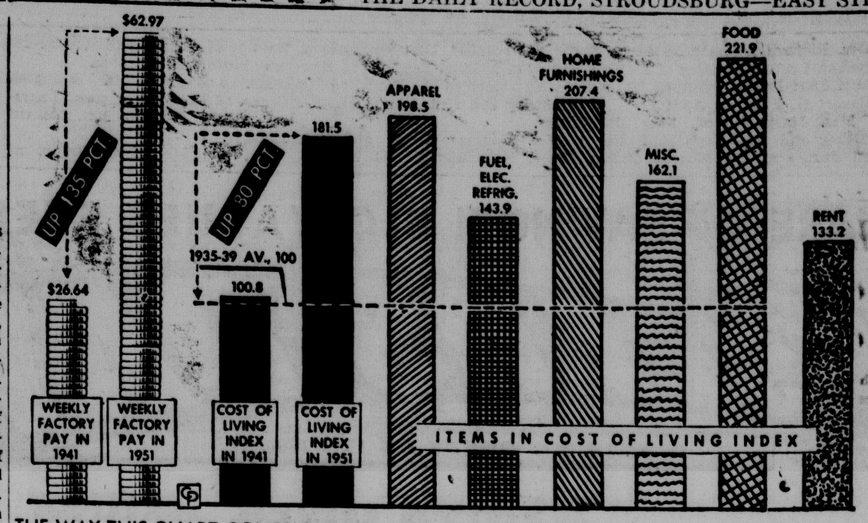

We are forever indebted to you for your contribution to civilization in music, literature, the arts and science.

We will try to forget Vichy if you will pull together to carry out your splendid rehabilitation and defense program which now you give every evidence of doing.

Goodbye, Paris

Goodbye to the Place de la Concorde with its hundreds of lights, splashing fountains, and whirling traffic; to the Champs Elysee and the Arc de Triomph.

Goodbye to forty million berets and smiling faces. Goodbye, France, but not forever. (End of series of 49 articles on London and Paris.)

New Members Inducted By Honor Society

New members of East Stroudsburg High school's honor society were inducted into membership during a recent "little commencement" ceremony in the school auditorium.

Walter A. Stem, adviser to the group, was in charge of the ceremony.

Guest speaker was Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent of schools.

"Be somebody!" he urged students. "Learn to direct yourselves, learn to make proper decisions, set up self-standards, cultivate your vision to see, develop your ability to do and make yourself mind you."

He reminded "success in life consists in making the most of the best that's in you."

"Worthwhile people just do not happen," he asserted. "You aren't born worthwhile . . . you are born with the possibilities of becoming worthwhile.

"Your job," he continued, "is to discover and develop the man or woman you should be. Robert Louis Stevenson said: 'Sooner or later we sit down to the banquet of circumstances'."

Music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Bettejo Goodall at the piano and Charlotte Herman at the organ.

Principals To Prepare Broadcasts

Supervising principals of Monroe county schools have agreed to prepare the groundwork for a series of four one-half hour vocational guidance programs to be broadcast over WVPO.

At a special meeting called by Superintendent John C. Litts educators agreed to arrange a broad program based upon questions concerning various occupations from high school seniors. Four panels will be arranged with five members each.

The questions will govern what vocations and occupations will be discussed on the air.

Panel members will be asked to tell about their occupation, why they chose it and give its advantages and disadvantages.

Purpose of the guidance program is to be a service to high school seniors and parents. Educators feel the programs will aid parents who are trying to help their children in a choice of a career or college.

Open Discussion Closes Annual District Rotary Conference At Buck Hill

Buck Hill Falls—The annual conference of District 262, Rotary International, closed here yesterday morning with a "town meeting" of clubs centering in the northeastern Pennsylvania region presenting their suggestions and opinions.

District Governor Walter S. Peeney, past president of the Stroudsburg club and presiding officer, conducted all sessions of the conference.

The 1951 conference attracted 700 persons at the Governor's ball and banquet Tuesday night, some 200 more than the attendance a year ago.

The dinner was followed by a novelty ball in the North room. This colorful affair, with many attending in formal attire, was actually the climax to the four-day conference.

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, president of the Stroudsburg club, gave the invocation at the dinner meeting. Franz Polgar, famous hypnotist, had an amusing performance in the crowded auditorium after the dinner.

Novelty ball was held in the North room after Mr. Polgar's entertainment. The room was decorated with 1,000 balloons in clusters as one of the novelty features.

Walter Fossa, past president of Mount Pocono Rotary, was master of ceremonies. He directed the series of fun novelties, aided by Bob McCluster's Allentown orchestra. Selma Kane was vocalist.

CIO Head Taken Seriously Ill

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Philip Murray, who rose from a 30-cent-a-day coal miner's helper to become head of the CIO and the United Steelworkers, lies seriously ill in a Pittsburgh hospital with an abdominal ailment.

The quiet-spoken, silver-haired labor leader was taken to Mercy hospital Sunday. He had become ill following a weekend dinner in Youngstown.

His office described his ailment as "a very severe abdominal complaint." The office said Murray is suffering from acute pancreaitis (inflammation of the pancreas—an important organ of digestion). The hospital described his condition as fair.

The CIO head will be 65 May 25.

Farm Laborers May Be Deferred

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine's farm labor advisory council yesterday released a plan to aid draft boards in deferring farm workers.

Miles Horst, State Agriculture secretary and council chairman, said the plan sets up a point system for determining whether a farmer is sufficiently important in his job to warrant deferring.

Horst said points will be determined generally by the number of animals on a farm, its size and man hours required to operate the farm. Farm youths with sufficient points would be deferred.

Horst emphasized that the point system plan will not be mandatory for draft boards to follow, but rather is intended only for guidance purposes.

Housewives Told To Buy Sugar Now

Washington, (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan suggested yesterday that housewives stock up on sugar now in anticipation of canning season needs.

He made the suggestion in a letter to Senator Ellender (D-La) who had asked if something should not be done to bolster producer prices. The agriculture department made the correspondence public.

Brannan said prices are relatively low because consumer buying is off. He said that unless there is stocking now the canning season might bring shortages in stores, not because of a shortage of sugar but because of transportation difficulties.

Pennsylvania florist shops have an annual sales volume of more than 28 million dollars, according to the Census Bureau.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When you see the twinkle in the eyes, the quirk of a smile in our two women with 88 and 90 years behind them, makes you sort of ashamed of the way you grunt and groan at less than half their age.

It probably added ten years to my life, though, to spend the afternoon at a purely social function—which isn't supposed to be in the paper, even.

Of course that's the time when you pick up more things you'd like to write about than any time.

However, there's only room to note that if Al Sterner starts chirping it's only because he's trying to round up some more canaries. About 300 entries for the pet show at the Y on Saturday, and only one canary. He wants the whole lobby full of them, so you women better clean out the bird cage and take your feathered friend over where he can make like a glee club with the other birds.

YANKEE REBELS—These fifth grade students at East Stroudsburg Elementary school just finished a course of study on the "deep south." They didn't worry about who won the Civil War . . . their main interest lay in the South's history and products. Showing off the results here are members of the class, taught by Miss Leila N. Bruch.

Fifth Graders Complete Study Centered On South

East Stroudsburg Elementary school's fifth grade, taught by Miss Leila M. Bruch, has completed a unit entitled "Southern States Products."

Students began their study, one of many that is being made of various countries of the world and their products, by visiting stores in search of pictures and products of the south.

Reports on these were prepared through the use of reference books, texts and magazines.

All classes were utilized in the study. In English pupils composed poems about cotton and wrote letters in search of more information and materials.

The settlements of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and the possession of Florida by the Spanish were reviewed in history class.

Trees of the south were studied in science and students learned of the destructive cotton boll weevil.

In art pupils made citrus fruit figures under the supervision of Mrs. Valeska Heller and painted and shellacked peanuts for necklaces and bracelets.

Miss Marguerite Cramer introduced music of the south, stressing the compositions of Stephen Foster.

Under the direction of Larry Haberle, of the physical education class, students learned how to dance the Virginia reel and minuet.

Students who took part in the study were Grant Booth, Horace Cole, Thomas Kintner, Thomas Lambert, Louis Mayers, Dale Metzger, Ronald Mursch, Ronald Neipert, Terry Siptroth, William Tough, Ronald Van Why, Robert Werkheiser, Doris Wolbert.

New Jersey Senate Okays Freeway For Road Network Opposite Delaware Water Gap

Trenton, N. J.—The New Jersey State Senate yesterday passed a bill designed to add a freeway to the existing State highway network on the New Jersey side of Delaware Water Gap.

The bill, introduced by State Sen. Robert B. Meyner, of Warren county, was passed unanimously and sent to the Assembly.

Meyner's measure directs the highway commissioner to add the freeway from Route Eight to a point in Pahaquarry township where construction of a bridge over the Delaware is under consideration.

The point, situated north of Columbia, N. J., and opposite the borough of Delaware Water Gap in Pennsylvania, is reported to be the same place where the proposed interstate bridge would touch the New Jersey side of the river.

The Interstate Bridge commission announced plans for the proposed bridge from Delaware Water Gap borough to the New Jersey side of the river several months ago. Soundings along both sides of the river were completed last fall.

Under the term "freeway," the New Jersey Highway department controls accesses to the highway as well as strips on both sides of the thoroughfare. Its primary purpose is to prevent the construction of advertising signs and buildings which might detract from the scenery.

The measure passed by the State Senate yesterday stipulates that the freeway be established from existing Route Eight in New Jersey. Route Eight extends westward from Newton through Blairstown and Hainesburg to Columbia where it meets Route Six at the covered bridge leading to Portland.

Stroudsburg High Blanks Pen Argyl For Initial Victory, 7-0

Eilenberger, Fetherman Fill Starring Roles

Stroudsburg High school got a combination of good pitching and solid hitting at Gordon Giffels field yesterday afternoon and the magic formula carried the Mountaineers to their first victory of the season a 7-0 non-league verdict over Pen Argyl. The outcome of the contest was never in doubt, as the Mountaineers jumped into a one run lead in the first inning and maintained the edge the remainder of the distance.

Bob "Will" Eilenberger lefthanded his way to a comfortable three-hit verdict over the defending Lehigh-Northampton league and District 11 champions. Alden "Red" Fetherman, working out of center field, led the Stroudsburg attack with a single, double and triple, the latter coming with the bases crammed in the fourth frame.

Stroudsburg's initial run came in the first on a walk to Les Slutter, a stolen base by the same fleet outfielder, and a single to right by Jack Newell.

All was quiet until the third when another walk to Slutter, a sacrifice by Newell and a double to left by Fetherman accounted for one more tally.

Big Blow

Layton DeHaven walked, Slutter was safe on an error and Newell worked pitcher Jack Bellis for a free ticket to fill the sacks in the bottom half of the fourth. Fetherman cleared the bases with a ringing triple to the fence in left center field.

The home team completed the scoring in the sixth with two more counters. Singles by Fetherman, Gene Caskie and Jerry Fritz, and a stolen base by Caskie, accounted for the final markers, with the help of an infield out by Floyd Williams.

Pen Argyl had the bases loaded on two hits and an error in the third, but Eilenberger continued his crafty pitching and got out of his only serious jam of the day. The final Pen Argyl hit came in the fifth.

Eilenberger fanned two and walked the same number, but had the opposing club hitting easy balls to both the infield and outfield all day.

Brown Treats Diamond Boss

New York (AP) — A painful stomach ailment, which was later diagnosed as a kidney stone, sent Manager Casey Stengel to Lenox Hill hospital yesterday.

The New York Yankee field boss was stricken before the game with the Philadelphia Athletics. He was first treated by Trainer Gus Mauch and was preparing to leave for an examination by Dr. Jacques Fischl, the club physician, when in walked Dr. Bobby Brown.

Improves

Casey brightened up immediately. Brown, the Yankee third baseman, had been serving an internship in San Francisco and Stengel wasn't counting on his services this year. The 26-year-old infielder told Casey he intended to play with the club until called up by his draft board.

"You're just the man I'm looking for—not as a player but a doctor," said Stengel. "My stomach's giving me hell."

Former Stroudsburg High Athletes To Honor Retired Cage Mentor With Testimonial Dinner

Alfred W. Munson, principal at Stroudsburg High school, announced last night that a Testimonial Dinner has been planned for T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, retired basketball coach, to be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home on Thursday, May 24, at 6:30 p. m. The gala affair is being made possible by all former athletes at the W. Main St. school.

Curtis retired as basketball coach at Stroudsburg High after more than 20 years of active duty at the end of the 1950-51 campaign.

Twenty-two interested men attended the first planning meeting at Stroudsburg High last night, at which time it was decided to present Curtis with a suitable gift at the banquet.

The group also decided to use this Testimonial Dinner to establish a Varsity Athletic club at the high school and to begin the ball rolling toward an annual Letterman's Banquet in future years. Letter winners in baseball, football, and basketball at Stroudsburg High during the past school year will also be guests at the testimonial.

However, the group didn't decide upon a price of admission at last night's gathering. The group will meet again on Monday night, at Stroudsburg High.

Munson stated last night that it was impossible to contact everyone during the past week, but an effort will be made to get in touch with all representatives slated to appear at Monday's gathering.

In addition to Munson, last night's meeting was attended by Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools; Jerry Stulgaitis, football and baseball coach and Sam Wells, assistant principal and assistant football coach at the high school. The list also included Lester "Pug" Boushell, Forrest "Chris" Haney, Warren "Mag" Loney, Chet Gross, Larry Levy, Elmer Rinehart, Harold "Lefty" Reaser, Horace McConnell, Tom Shiffer, Ray "Frenchy" Catudal, Bill Weber, Bob Denicker, Paul "Muff" Warnick, Will Miller, Bill Crooks, Gene "Jabby" Hofstadt, Bill Marean, Harry Armitage, John Howe and Dick Lee.

Last night's meeting featured classes as far back as 1934, but Monday's gathering will also be attended by representatives back as far as 1925, it is hoped.

More than 200 are expected to attend the banquet.

Schoonover Announces Starting Lineup For Pocono A. C. Exhibition At Riegel Ridge

John Schoonover, manager of the Pocono A. C. entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league, was fairly certain of his starting lineup for the home-and-home exhibition series with Riegel Ridge, of the Tri-County league, on Saturday and Sunday, following last night's practice session at Gordon Giffels field.

Although practice has been very limited because of weather conditions, Schoonover appeared quite pleased with the condition of his club and is hopeful of enjoying a successful campaign against Blue Mountain league competition this season.

Schoonover announced that Saturday's pitchers will be Russell "Lindy Transue and Clint Besecker, while Chet Lucki and Redge Flannagan will toe the rubber when the two-game series moves to Giffels field on Sunday. On both occasions the games begin at 2:30 p. m.

Pocono A. C. will answer the starting signal on Saturday with Danny Eppley on first base; Dewey Martling, second base; Don Sweda, third base and Al Bachman, shortstop. John Drews will handle the catching assignment. The outfield will find Dick Schaller in right, Doug Schoonover in center and Bob Schick in left.

Changes

However, Schoonover pointed out that there will be a couple of changes when the two teams play before Monroe county spectators on Sunday.

Riegel Ridge finished the 1950 campaign in third place, but won the Governor's Cup in the post-season playoff series staged by the Tri-County league.

There will be no admission charged for Sunday's game, but a collection will be taken up. The admission free gate has been arranged by the local club in an effort to sell it and its brand of baseball to the fans of the area.

The regular Blue Mountain league campaign is scheduled to get under way a week from Sunday.

Pierro entered the hospital April 25. Dr Norman C. Oschsenhirt diagnosed his condition as Encephalitis (inflammation of the brain)

Drop In Attendance

New York (AP)—Blame it on the weather, TV, General MacArthur or the cost of living, but Major league baseball attendance is off some 22 per cent for the first week of the season.

Actually more home dates were played this year than last, 45 to 40, and there were fewer postponements, 13-8, than last spring.

Yanks Blank A's Behind Lopat, 3-0

New York (AP)— Ed Lopat, the easy going lefthander, hurled a four-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight victory and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

Three Runs

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Bobby Shantz, little Philadelphia southpaw, was reached for only six hits but the world champions collected three of them in the opening frame for all of their runs.

Phillies Take Measure Of Giants Under Lights

Philadelphia, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies socked six New York hurlers for 12 hits, including five two baggers and a triple, to defeat the Giants 6-4 in the second game of the series last night.

Bob Miller, making his first start of the season did not allow a hit until the fifth inning. Then he ran into trouble but weathered the storm until two out in the ninth when Jim Konstanty was called in to get Monte Irvin out with the tying runs on base.

The Phils picked up their first run in the second when Del Wilber drove a triple past Don Mueller and scored after "Whitey" Lockman caught Ed Pellagrini's long foul. They added three more in the fourth after two out. Miller and Ed Waitkus singled and both scored on Richie Ashburn's double. Willie Jones' two bagger sent Ashburn home.

Three Counters

New York picked up three in the fifth as Bobby Thomson got the Giants' first hit on a hard bounder along the third base line and Henry Thompson singled to right. Wes Westrum singled Thomson home. Ed Stanky walked and when Al Dark singled Thompson came home. Del Ennis fumbled the ball and Westrum also scored.

The Phils, however, came back in their half, knocked Jack Kramer off the mound and counted once on four hits. Hamner opened with a double but was doubled up when he tried to go to third on Wilber's fly to center.

Ed Pellagrini, Miller and Waitkus hit safely in succession to count Pellagrini. Monte Kennedy replaced Kramer and fanned Ashburn.

Each club scored in the sixth. Monte Irvin singled, went to third on two infield outs and crossed on Don Mueller's hit. In the Phils half Jones singled, was forced at second by Ennis who crossed the plate on Ed Sanicki's double.

Bangor Takes Measure Of Hellertown

Hellertown—Bangor High school opened the 1951 Lehigh-Northampton league baseball season with a convincing 8-3 victory over Hellertown High here yesterday afternoon, on the losing team's home field. Glen Raph went the distance for the Bangor club and allowed only five singles over the nine inning route.

The game was evenly played for for the first eight innings, with the visiting team trailing for the most part, only to blow the contest wide open with a four-run rally in the top of the ninth and final frame.

Bangor touched Bob Heffner for one run in the second round, only to have Hellertown move into a 2-1 lead in the bottom portion of the same inning.

Scoring

The home team took a 3-1 advantage in the bottom of the sixth, only to have Bangor score one time in the seventh. The charges of Coach Dave Thomas moved out in front with two runs in the eighth and put the contest on ice with the four run splurge in the ninth.

Raph, a strong armed right hander, pitched a brilliant game, retiring 14 Hellertown batters on strikes and walking only four.

Len Castellucci, Gene Frace, Dominic DeFranco, Joe D'Imperio, and Asa Pysher paced the Bangor offensive with two hits each.

Bangor dropped its three exhibition contests this season but came through with flying colors yesterday when the chips were down.

The Slaters remain idle until next Tuesday, when they play host to Coplay, at Bangor park.

Barrett Scores Pre-Season Decision Over Greene-Dreher

Newfoundland—Barrett High school's baseball team scored in five of seven innings here yesterday afternoon to account for a convincing 13-5 victory in the first outing of the campaign for both teams, prior to entering the Monroe county and Wayne county conference campaigns.

Coach Joe Murray's Barrett contingent touched Francis Curtis, a right hander, for two runs in the first round and was headed only once thereafter. The visiting contingent picked up another counter in the third, five more in the fourth and wound up the day's activity with two in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Four Runs

Greene-Dreher reached Weiskopf for four runs in the third frame and held a brief lead, only to see it go up in smoke in the fourth. The home team pushed across its final run in the seventh and last inning.

Ehrgood moved in from his second base position to hurl the last couple of innings.

Feller Tames Pale Hose For Indians

Cleveland (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox yesterday with a 5 to 2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1 his first time out, fanned only one, his ex-team mate Eddie Robinson and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

Anniversary

Yesterday incidentally was the fiftieth anniversary of the start of the American league—on April 24, 1901. Cleveland and Chicago met in Chicago on that day too—all other games being rained out—and Chicago won 8-2.

With a cold crowd of 5,162 looking on yesterday, the Indians grabbed a two-run lead in the second inning and stayed in front. In that inning, Merrill Combs scored Larry Doby from first with a double.

Westlake Stars As Pirates Trip Cubs

Chicago (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs in a rain-delayed game before 5,750 yesterday.

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

Before the rainfall Buc right-hander Vernon Law seemed headed for a nifty four-hitter. But the Cubs chased him in their half of the eighth, and fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law. The loser was rookie Omar "Turk" Lown, who lasted seven innings.

Westlake, who also drove across a fourth run with a sixth inning single, saved the day for the Pirates in the eighth when he speared Andy Pafko's smash in deep left center and doubled Phil Cavarretta off second base.

Rally

Cavarretta had followed Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff double and Bob Dillinger's bobble on "Hank" Sauer's grounder with a whistling twobagger to right field. That put across two runs and brought in Werle as Law's successor with none out and the Cubs behind 6-4.

After Westlake's fine catch on Pafko's liner, Bill Serena doubled, but Werle put out the fire by getting the next batter on a pop-up. It was Werle's fourth relief appearance. He now has hurled ten scoreless innings.

Lown, making his Cub debut, got in trouble right at the start when he walked George Metkovich and Ralph Kiner and then tossed a homerun ball to Westlake.

The sixth sealed Lown's fate. With one Buc out, Kiner slammed a rarity for him, a two-bagger down the right field foul line. A wild pitch advanced Kiner to third before Westlake pumped him home with a single. Monty Basgall's single moved Westlake to third. Clyde McCullough smashed a drive to left center which eluded Andy Pafko for a double, Westlake and Basgall scoring for a 6-2 Buc lead.

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

On again, off again is the story of the Stroudsbugr-East Stroudsburg High school meeting on the baseball diamond this year. Just when it appeared as if the two schools had reached an acceptable date for the big clash, the entire affair blew sky high, when it was learned that the East Stroudsburg club would be seriously hampered by the loss of key pitchers on Wednesday, May 23, the date which was announced as official on Monday night. The latest turn of events leaves the situation where it was last week.

East Stroudsburg is scheduled to play Fountain Hill on Monday, May 21, and if the Stroudsburg date would have been filled, it would have meant that the Cavaliers would play two games in three days, with only one hurler available. The remainder of the pitching corps would be in Washington. The change in plans means that a new date will have to be found. The two schools had better reach an agreement, but quick, as the 1950 season is already under way and will be over before any of us realize it.

It was learned yesterday that Stroudsburg had reached a tentative date with Bangor for that annual diamond struggle. Although no confirmation has been received, the contest is expected to be played on Wednesday, May 16, at Gordon Giffels field. Reports reaching this corner after yesterday's game was that one of the Pen Argyl pitchers was injured in an automobile accident and was unable to accompany Coach Fred "Benny" Leonard and company to the local ball yard yesterday.

Red faces are as plentiful in this sports business as in any other walk of life—take it from me, I know. I mentioned the fact that Jake Nittel is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars bowling team, the number one club in the Record Major league, only to find out that I had the right circuit but the wrong team. Jake rolled with Crowe's Insurance during the past campaign. I guess it's a case of having the right league but the wrong alley.

Yesterday's postponement of today's tennis match between the girls of ESSTC and Swarthmore sweeps the Normal Hill athletic calendar clear of any activity until Saturday, when every squad except the men's tennis team moves into action. Don "Buddy" Judge, Tobyhanna Township High school, will play with Pocono A. C. during the coming summer months, following the Monroe County league season.

Jack Milne, former Lafayette baseball and basketball star, will play with Washington, N. J., of the Tri-County league, this season. Milne played a couple of games against the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College nine on the Normal Hill field in past years. The Washington club is in the same circuit as Riegel Ridge, the club who will oppose Pocono A. C., in a home and home exhibition series during the coming weekend. Saturday's game will be at Riegel Ridge, while the second contest will be at Gordon Giffels field on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30.

Elmer Valo, outfielder for the Philadelphia A's, who made that sensational catch against the Yankees in left field yesterday at the Stadium, is almost an annual visitor to Monroe county, either as a speaker or basketball official during the winter months. Valo, shifted from right to left field yesterday, and promptly reached into the A's bull pen to rob Mickey Mantle of a home run in the first frame. Even the New York fans were loud in their applause for the popular Valo. Seventeen players were on hand for the Pocono A. C. practice session at Giffels field last Saturday. Several outstanding High school stars will join the club following the scholastic diamond campaign.

Elwood Young, "Doc" Helman, Warren "Mag" Loney, Bill Crooks, Roe Bush and Harry Albert were among the area's top diamond fans at yesterday's baseball game between Stroudsburg and Pen Argyl, at Giffels field. Dale Melms, youthful right handed chucker with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1949, apparently has won a place on the Wilkes-Barre, Eastern league, mound staff for the coming season, despite being bothered with a sore arm during the pre-season grind. Melms has had arm trouble since the fading days of the 1949 season.

Andy Weingartner, recently awarded a scholarship to Williams College, was a member of the basketball and football teams at Stroudsburg High. Andy was one of the best defensive backs on the grid machine last fall, as Weingartner leveled the opposition with more than one bone jarring tackle during the course of the season. Brother Karl is a three letterman at the same school, playing football, basketball and baseball. Friday's meeting at the Monroe County YMCA should be a shot in the arm to Little League baseball in Stroudsburg.

Steele, Stull Take Part In Pitching Duel

Wilson Borough — East Stroudsburg and Wilson Borough High schools battled to a 1-1 deadlock here yesterday in a Lehigh-Northampton league opener halted by darkness after seven full innings of action. Ray Steele and Frank Stull hooked up in a terrific pitching duel which would apparently have gone on indefinately, if darkness hadn't engulfed the two clubs.

Steele allowed only four hits, while Stull gave up half as many, as the two right handers hurled with heart and head from the opening round through, the seventh.

Wilson took advantage of Steele's shaky start to tally in the second round, when Miller walked with the bases loaded to force in Vogel with the home team's only score. However, beginning with the third inning, the Bushkill righthander was the master the remainder of the distance.

Tieing Run

The Cavaliers knotted the count in the sixth, when Steele walked, then raced to third on a double to right center by Harold Litts. John "Juice" Arnst was sent up to the plate to hit for Gerard Rogers and promptly singled past third base to send Steele home with the tieing marker. Marlin "Ducky" Martz went down on strikes to end the rally that started after the first two batters had been retired.

Steele and Stull also locked in a battle of strikeouts, the former retiring 14 in that manner and the Wilson hurler being credited with 16 K's in the scorebook. Control was good as Stull walked only four and Steele six.

Big Seventh Inning Gives Senators Verdict Over Bosox

Boston, (AP)—The Washington Senators showed little respect for the highly esteemed Red Sox yesterday, rapping the Boston American leaguers 7-5 behind the six-hit pitching of left handed Bob Kuzava.

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators batted, won the game for the Washington club which lost only one of its five games.

Good Start

Clyde Vollmer's two run homer, a lusty line drive high into the left field screen in the second inning, got the Sox off to a 2-0 lead to the cheers of a ladies day crowd of 8,334, of whom 6,188 paid.

Boston's other three runs also came on homers. Bob Doerr hit his first of the year in the seventh with a mate aboard and Ted Williams lashed his third of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Beshore Drops Decision

London (AP)—Don Cockell, British and European light heavyweight champion, pounded out a one-sided decision victory over Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., last night in a non-title ten rounder before a capacity crowd of 10,100 in Harringay Arena. Beshore outweighed the Londoner, 185 to 181.

Blond Freddie first lost $420 in the afternoon for weighing three pounds over an agreed 182 and then he took a good shellacking from the 22-year-old Englishman in the evening.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key-number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Brooklyn's Streak Of Five Straight Halted By Braves

Roe clung to a one-run lead when he was forced to retire after seven innings. Erskine simply didn't have it. He walked Earl Torgeson and Bob Elliott before Gordon slammed his 350-foot homer into the left field seats in the eighth.

Two More

The Braves salted down the decision with two more runs in the ninth on Elliott's single with the bases loaded off Dan Bankhead.

With a strong wind blowing toward the left field stands, it was a battle of home runs for the 8,449 chilled customers. Max Surkont survived homers by Carl Furillo and "Duke" Snider to go the route with a ten-hitter.

Furillo, hero of Monday's 16-inning victory over the Braves, started the Brooks off with a first-inning homer after Gene Hermanski doubled.

Musial Leads Cardinals To Nod Over Reds

St. Louis (AP)—Stan Musial broke out of his batting slump as the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Cincinnati Reds 3-1 yesterday behind the effective pitching of southpaw Max Lanier.

Musial entered the game with a batting average of .154 and left it with an average of .313.

He smacked three singles and drew a walk in his four trips. Until yesterday, he had only two hits to show for 13 times at bat.

Final Run

After the Reds pulled to within one run of the Cardinals in the seventh, the Cardinals came right back to score their final run. Musial singled for his third hit, advanced on a single by Steve Bilko and a sacrifice and scored on Don Richmond's fly.

Singles by Harry "Peanuts" Lowry and Enos Slaughter produced a Cardinal run in the first. Lowry collided with umpire Art Gore while crossing home and, although both took a spill, neither was hurt.

Mental Health Week Scheduled

Bennett Strait, supervisor of special education for Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties, announced yesterday that mental health week will be observed May 2-8.

"This comes at an excellent time," he explained, "because of the recent organization of a Guild Guidance center for Monroe and Northampton counties."

He said headquarters have been set up in Easton and designated to serve the needs of children in this area.

C. E. Metzgar Beats Down Grass Fire

Analomink — Claude E. Metzgar, Monroe county's prothonotary and clerk of courts, yesterday turned fireman and singlehandedly beat down a grass fire which spread into a quarter of an acre of woodland near the home of his son, Mitchell Metzgar.

The clerk of courts was still at home shortly before 9 a.m. when the blaze was discovered by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mitchell Metzgar.

She turned in the alarm which brought the Analomink fire company to the scene, but, in the meantime, the elder Metzgar ran across the road from his home and succeeded in checking the fire before the firemen arrived.

Damage to the woodlot was said to be very slight due to recent rains which had soaked the under portion of the forest floor.

Club To Fete Landowners

Portland — The fifth annual party for the landowners of this region, sponsored by Laurel Hill Rod & Gun Club, Inc., will be held at Slateford club house Friday at 8 p. m.

Club members annually tender a dinner and party to owners of club lands bordering on streams which they stock and fish and on lands where they annually hunt small and large game.

A courtesy gesture, the party is always one of the major events of the rod and gun club.

A brief business meeting will be held. Films will be shown and several forms of entertainment will precede serving of refreshments.

Three To Be Soloists At Band Concert

Three soloists will be featured at the Stroudsburg High school band concert Friday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Rod Stanard will be featured in an alto saxophone solo of "Valse Tynnette." Ted Blum, clarinetist, will solo in "Autumn Caprice" and Jane Ann Marshall will be the pianist in two movements from John Schaum's "Mountain Concerto."

The band will be under the direction of John Pyle, who will lead the student musicians in their first formal concert since he assumed his new position last year.
